

Economic Future Bright: Ike

NOTES FROM A CITY EDITOR'S DAYBOOK—The various secretaries of the chambers of commerce in Northern Illinois are a bunch of dunderheads if they don't make capital of our recent cool wave.

I am thinking now of the propaganda flood we can expect this winter when the snow is a foot deep here and the sun is shining in Miami.

Our desk will be piled high with travel folders, pictures of pretty girls on the beaches and other cuties sitting on ice cakes while basking in the Gulf breezes.

I warn these Chamber of Commerce hotshots that this is the time to strike. This is the time to avenge all the hurts you've suffered at the hands of your fellow hotshots in the Southland.

I can't conceive of any pattern this attack might take, but if our tub-thumpers in the North are worth their salt, they should immediately proceed to call a council of war.

I propose a devastating barrage of post cards to all mayors, hotel owners and editors in the torrid south. The postcard might contain a picture of a wholesome Northern lass wrapped (scantily) in furs and pointing to a thermometer.

They might fabricate a picture of all the residents of, say, Dixon, contributing their electric fans to the heat-stricken Southerners.

I'll volunteer to be pictured in bed (ah, sleep!) wrapped comfortably in a woolen blanket. Conceivably this picture won't capture any Page One fanfare but at least the editors will get the idea.

There are tremendous possibilities to this thing. Whilst the Chamber of Commerce boys are figuring out their mode of attack, I'd suggest a bit of individual effort also.

You who read this, seat yourself down and think of all the relatives, friends and service pals you know who reside south of the Mason-Dixon line.

You might drop them a friendly letter, climaxing it with the casual comment that "I must stop now and put another log on the fireplace," or "I hope it is cool where you are; we're sleeping under blankets every night."

You can readily see that this method of revenge is easily contrived and could be singularly effective.

Our Southern friends may complain and say that this cool, mid-August weather is quite unusual and that the Northern propagandists are flinging unfair punches.

I hold that it is no more unfair than the blige that floats north in Midwinter.

To the ramparts, men.

School Offices Located on Hennepin Av.

The Dixon Board of Education Wednesday night announced the school system's administrative offices will be located at 111½ Hennepin Ave.

The offices will occupy a suite of six rooms, which now are being vacated. The offices are expected to open before Sept. 1.

Supt. A. H. Lancaster, Assistant Supt. Sherwood Dees and a secretarial staff will be located in the new offices.

Former Dixomite Hurt in Crash

Former Dixon resident Mrs. George Althouse, Los Angeles, Cal., was injured in an auto accident on her way to work in Los Angeles. Mrs. Althouse, 52, was injured in a head-on collision with a car driven by a man who was driving on the wrong side of the road. She was taken to a hospital and is expected to recover.

Top-Quality Pork Chops

CHARLES QUARTON, 11, Rt. 1, Byron, is shown with his Duroc Jersey which was chosen grand champion market barrow during swine judging in the Ogle County 4-H Show in Oregon Wednesday. Charles is a member of Rock River Triers 4-H Club and attends Byron School. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Quarton.

Sen. McCarthy, Witness Exchange Verbal Swats

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and a witness who refused to say whether he is a Communist denounced each other in a stormy public hearing of the Senate investigations subcommittee today.

The witness, Louis Passikoff of Schenectady, N. Y., accused McCarthy of a "conspiracy" with Passikoff's employers, the General Electric Co. He challenged McCarthy's right to question him "while you, senator, face very serious charges" in the form of the censure resolution Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) has aimed at McCarthy.

McCarthy threatened repeatedly to have Passikoff ejected from the hearing, enlivened also by a brief verbal clash between the senator and Passikoff's wife, who shouted that McCarthy was trying to "smear" her.

Joseph D. Mazzei, a Pittsburgh theater operator and former undercover man for the FBI, testified as the leadoff witness that while posing as a Communist in the 1940's and early 1950's he knew Passikoff as a "trouble shooter for the Communist party."

He said the rank and file Communists in Pittsburgh looked upon Passikoff as a contender for the leadership.

Mag Salesman Legion-Backed

Walter Kyger, Dixon Legion commander, said today that a woman magazine salesman is selling subscriptions here on behalf of the county Legion but that he had not previously been made aware of it.

His announcement clarified a situation of Tuesday in which a woman salesman was reportedly misrepresenting herself as being sponsored by the Legion. Kyger said the arrangements were made with the county commander but evidently the Dixon post wasn't told of the venture.

The county Legion sponsored a magazine campaign earlier this year but this, apparently, was the second campaign. The woman used a newspaper clipping in telling of the latest campaign.

Tentative School Budget Calls for Higher Spending

The tentative budget for the Dixon school district in the 1954-55 fiscal year calls for an increase in total expenditures, but Supt. A. H. Lancaster says the tax rate will be unchanged.

Lancaster prepared the preliminary figures which now are on file with John Colley, board of education secretary, and available for public inspection.

Educational expenses are expected to be about $785,465, a drop of almost $12,000 from last year's figure. Building fund expenditures will be an estimated $257,416.91, up more than $46,000 from last year.

Higher Valuations

Lancaster says increased property valuations will boost income enough to cover increased costs without a larger tax rate. The present rate is $1.3678 per hundred dollars valuation.

Income from tax levies this year is expected to include $500,000 for educational fund, up $40,000; $88,000 for building fund, up $17,600; and $6,800 for municipal retirement fund, up $550.

Increase in teachers' salaries will account for the major share of an $83,000 increase in instruction costs. Administrative and other operational expenses show small increases also, but all the increases are offset by a drop of $116,275 in expenses for new equipment. Last year's budget included provisions for much of the new equipment in the new Jefferson and Washington Schools.

Show Increases
Building fund expenses also show increases. School officials say the increases are due to the fact that the school system now is operating more and larger schools.

The Hazelwood and Grand Detour Schools have been annexed to the Dixon district since last spring.

Total funds available for educational purposes will be $1,101,433, compared with $1,042,252.12 for last year. The total for the building fund will be $258,062.74, compared with $236,318.

A public hearing on the budget is scheduled Sept. 8 in the high school. After the hearing, the board is expected to act on the proposal.

Sen. McCarthy Says Story He Owes Taxes Is 'Untrue'

Paper Says He Owes $25,000

Tax Agents Claim No Fraud; Blame Muddled Records

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Washington Evening Star said today Internal Revenue agents, after an 18 months investigation, have concluded that Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) owes additional income taxes and interest of about $25,000.

McCarthy, asked if he wished to comment on the newspaper's story, told a reporter: "It's strictly untrue. There is strictly nothing to it."

McCarthy, talking again with newsmen later, called the story "a complete and vicious libel."

"There is absolutely no truth in it," McCarthy said. "There has been no intimation of any kind by any one that I owe additional taxes."

Declines Comment

The internal revenue service declined comment.

The newspaper said it had learned the revenue service will soon present the evidence it has gathered to McCarthy and give him a chance to explain data that the tax investigators do not understand.

"The tax agents do not contend that Sen. McCarthy acted with fraudulent intent," the story said.

"Instead, they assert the Wisconsin legislator erroneously classified as non-taxable some of the money he received and on which he should have paid taxes."

The case was described as covering the tax years 1946 through 1952.

Saying there was no claim of intent to defraud, the newspaper added:

Can Clear Themselves

"A taxpayer in these circumstances can clear himself by simply paying back taxes plus 6 per cent interest."

"If the taxpayer pays up, the revenue service does not make the case public. Thus Senator McCarthy's federal tax returns again could escape public scrutiny—unless some congressional committee were to subpoena them."

"The tax agents' confidence in their claim against Sen. McCarthy stems partly from the fact that Internal Revenue Commissioner T. Coleman Andrews is taking a stern attitude toward Sen. McCarthy's lack of detailed records to support his tax returns."

"The law states that if internal revenue finds that a taxpayer has receipts that are not clearly classifiable as non-taxable, internal revenue can rule that the receipts are subject to taxation."

Burden on Senator

"This is the course internal revenue is following in the McCarthy case. It means that the 'burden of proof' falls on the senator. To avoid the taxes he must prove where he got the disputed money, and he must prove that the money is not subject to taxation."

"This may turn out to be a formidable task for Sen. McCarthy in view of his admittedly sketchy bookkeeping."

"At least part of the disputed money represents contributions to Sen. McCarthy. Friends, acquaintances and members of the public have sent him sums ranging from thousands of dollars down to pennies."

"Sometimes the donors specified the money was to be used to fight communism. Sometimes the donors did not say how Sen. McCarthy was to use the money."

"Internal revenue agents are understood to be insisting that show-down conferences with Sen. McCarthy begin by Sept. 1 regardless of what other duties Sen. McCarthy might have."

AERIAL BROKEN

Cecil Loren, 518 Eighth St., told Dixon police Wednesday night that someone broke an aerial off his automobile while it was parked in his yard.

Guidance Man Named at DHS Wisconsin Man Director; List School Opening Data

Albert H. Krueger, 34, Madison, Wis., has been appointed by the Dixon Board of Education to fill a new position in the school system, that of guidance director.

His duties will include working with parents, teachers and students to aid in advising the students in solving their problems. He also will expand the testing program in the schools.

Krueger has his bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Wisconsin, and has completed most of the work for his doctorate. He worked five years in teaching and guidance at the Milwaukee School of Engineering.

He is married and has two daughters. He will begin work in Dixon Aug. 30.

School officials also announced today that Dixon Public Schools will open Tuesday, Sept. 7, at 9 a.m.

Children may enter kindergarten if they will be five years of age on or before Nov. 30, 1954. Children may enter first grade if they will be six years of age by that date.

Children living east of the Illinois Central main line and south of the river will attend South Central School. Those west of the tracks and south of the river go to Lincoln School. Three sections of pupils in grades, one, two and three will be assigned to the Woodworth School after the Lincoln School registration.

The Illinois Central track and Galena Avenue will be the dividing line for northside schools. Children from west of the avenue and north of the tracks and who are entering school for the first time will attend Jefferson School. Children in this area who have attended Washington School may continue in that school for the 1954-55 year.

Officials say all boundary lines are temporary and will be moved to secure equal numbers in the various grades.

Hazelwood and Grand Detour Schools, which have entered the Dixon district since spring, will operate with the same division lines as in the past. The board of education is planning bus service for high school students from the Hazelwood and Grand Detour areas.

JOINS INSURANCE FIRM

Bernard J. Frazer, 515 Fellows St., former Dixon High School principal, has accepted a position as special representative of an insurance firm. He will be associated in business with his son, Bernard L. Frazer, also a representative of the company.

R. J. Frazer recently completed training at the company's general agency office in Chicago.

'Business as Usual' at AEC Plant

Call Off Strike At Paducah After Court Injunction

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP)—It was business as usual today at strike-threatened atomic plants here and at Paducah, Ky.

CIO production workers, who had threatened to strike today at the key atomic plants to enforce their demands for pay raises, backed down in the face of a federal court injunction issued Wednesday night. The plants produce all of a vital ingredient for atomic and hydrogen bombs in this country.

Spokesmen for both sides said there were no disturbances as the day shift reported for work and that it was "business as usual" at the atomic plants.

The Taft-Hartley injunction was whipped out Wednesday night by U. S. Dist. Judge Robert L. Taylor at nearby Knoxville to block the strike of 4,500 workers ordered for 8 a.m. today. The move came just hours after President Eisenhower said the government could not permit a work stoppage at the plants for reasons of national security.

Emerson Pownall, president of the local, promised Wednesday night that the workers would be back on the job today as another chapter was added to the four-month-old wage dispute.

Security guards at the plants here said that no picket lines had been thrown up during the morning hours and indications were that the injunction would be honored by the workers as Pownall promised.

The injunction provides for an 80-day cooling off period in which the workers continue on the jobs and management is barred from holding a lockout while negotiations continue.

Elwood Hain, regional representative of the union from Atlanta, Ga., accepted service of the injunction Wednesday night for both locals.

96th Annual State Fair Opens Friday for 10 Days

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Illinois rolls out its annual display of fine agricultural and industrial products Friday with the opening of the 96th State Fair.

Gov. Stratton will officially launch the 10-day exposition and then thousands of youngsters will take over the spacious grounds for a day crammed with special attractions for them. A doll buggy parade, baby pageant, foot races and junior Olympics are some of the opening day features.

Predict Million
Fair officials are predicting attendance will hit the million mark again, with the largest single day crowds expected for the colorful Veterans Day program Sunday and President Eisenhower's visit on Thursday, Aug. 19.

Prize money offered in various competitions will total $626,581, with $416,500 of this amount set aside for horse, auto and motorcycle races. More than 12,000 animals and 4,000 farm products are entered in contests.

Livestock judging will begin Friday and carry on most of the fair. Teenage farmers will parade their animals during the first two days of the exposition before open competition gets under way Monday.

Racing Saturday

Saturday will inaugurate six days of Grand Circuit harness racing headed by the appearance of Newport Dream, the Hambletonian winner, in the $18,000 Review Futurity next Tuesday.

Marching and musical units will contend for $10,000 in cash awards Sunday during the Veterans Day program. Skokie American Legion Post 320 will defend its senior drum corps championship.

About 50 high school bands from throughout the state will engage in competition lasting five days. The contest is divided into five classes based on school enrollment. Four state horseshoe pitching championships will be decided—girls, boys, ladies and men.

No major innovations are on this year's program. The ban against drinking beer on the grounds will be in effect the second straight year.

Decline Is Halted, He Tells Nation

Administration Has Good Record, Claims President in Report

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower declared today that a recent decline in the state of America's economic health had "come to a halt" by the middle of this year. He said prospects for the future look good.

Making public an administration mid-year economic survey, the President said the "recent economic decline" has been "very small."

The Eisenhower report said activity of late "has been higher than at any time before this administration assumed responsibility."

1953 Still Better

Then the President declared: "And since 1953 was a still better year than 1954 is turning out to be, it follows that over-all performance of the American economy thus far during this administration has been better than during any earlier time."

Eisenhower said 1952 was the best year before his regime took office.

The administration survey in this congressional election year seemed certain to provide political ammunition during the campaign for both Republicans and Democrats.

Last winter some Democrats were contending that, with unemployment increasing, the administration was leading the nation into a depression.

Eisenhower and other Republican leaders disagreed sharply with the Democrats, and there have been GOP contentions lately that the over-all economic activity was on the upswing.

Unemployment Greater
The President said in today's report that unemployment "is now greater than during the time of the Korean War."

But at the time he said joblessness in recent months has not been larger than in comparable months of 1949 and 1950.

"Moreover," he said, "the rate of unemployment has shown some tendency to diminish of late. This is one of the numerous signs of economic improvement."

Among other such signs Eisenhower said, are these:

"Retail sales have been recently rising again. Business expenditures on capital expansion and improvement are continuing at a high rate. New construction contracts are running well above the level of a year ago."

Inventories Down
"Inventories have been reduced and are now in better adjustment to current sales. The financial markets have been displaying great strength. The level of business and consumer confidence in the economic future is high and improving."

The President said the economic program being enacted by the present Congress "marks a milestone in constructive legislation."

He said the program, which he did not detail, will help reduce unemployment and stimulate enterprise and development in all directions.

"In the months and years ahead, we must continue to bring knowledge, cool judgment, and a concern for people to the consideration of economic problems," the report said. "In the measure that we do this, we may look forward with great confidence to the future."

Decline Halted

At the outset of his statement the President declared:

"The paramount fact about the economy at mid-year is that the recent decline in economic activity has come to a halt."

In analyzing the economic activity of the first six months of this year, the President chose as a comparative base the first half of 1953 when he said "our nation was enjoying the greatest prosperity we have known."

Using that yardstick, he went on, "we find that industrial production has been running 8.1 per cent lower than in 1953."

But Eisenhower said other criteria must be taken into account—such as gross national product, which expresses the dollar value of the nation's total output of commodities and services; non-agricultural employment; personal income, which is the sum of indi-

Trains Own Dogs As Seeing Eyes

WINTER HARBOR, Maine (P)—Truck Driver Truxton Coombs never had heard of a seeing-eye dog when an explosion destroyed his eyesight 29 years ago, but he trained one and now he has trained a second. His first dog, Lady, was eight months old when Coombs began to train her.

How many words she learned, but it was hard to stump her. Coombs, 57, learned chain carving and bridle at the Maine Institute for the Blind. Antique dealers and summer folks keep him busy during summer months. He wishes they'd spread the work into the winter. During war years he went into the woods with Lady and used to be paid into cord lengths.

John Eden, Freshman MP, Is Uncle Anthony's Toughest Critic in British House of Commons

By TOM A. CULLEN

LONDON (NEA)—If Britain is to have an Eden for its next Prime Minister, a number of Britons think it should be his U. S.-educated nephew, John, rather than Uncle Anthony.

For 26-year-old John Eden, freshman member of Parliament, is not only the nephew of a plamorous British foreign secretary—he is also Anthony Eden's toughest critic in the House of Commons.

Young Eden, who attended St. Paul's School, Concord, N. H., detests appeasement, whether it wears the cloth cap of Labor, or the black homburg of Uncle Anthony.

In his maiden speech, John electrified the House of Commons by tearing into his uncle's soft policy toward Communist aggressors.

Comparing Soviet Russia with the hungry walrus who invites the oysters to take a walk along the bony beach, John fixed his uncle with an accusing stare.

"One by one, the innocent countries are being eaten up," he cried. "We must stop this feast before there is nothing left."

The battle of Eden vs. Eden has members on both sides of the House of Commons chortling with glee, for the two Edens form a strange contrast.

Blond, ruddy-faced John lacks his uncle's polished manner, as well as his sartorial elegance. He is inclined to be outspoken, where Anthony returns the soft answer.

Instead of preparing for a diplomatic career, John went to work as a farm laborer, much to the scandal of his baronet father, Sir Timothy Eden, not to mention Uncle Anthony.

When he stood for Parliament, he was working as a tree nurseryman on his own 28-acre farm near Woking.

But John Eden is also infusing the Tory Party with new life, making the diehards sit up and take notice of "that young whippersnapper." For his political debut last autumn he deliberately chose the toughest Labor stronghold he could find, North Paddington.

Although he didn't stand a chance of winning the Paddington election, John made 15 speeches a day, once felled a ripe tomato from the crowd.

On another occasion John rented

JOHN EDEN: Once he had to field a ripe tomato.

Former Singing Cowboy Senator Beating Bushes

POCATELLO, Idaho (P)—After a day or two for rest and repairs to his sound truck, it will be back to beating the bushes with an occasional song and a steady attack on administration foreign policy for Glen H. Taylor, former singing cowboy senator from Idaho.

"There is no substitute for hard work," said the man who put his job on the block when he booted the Democratic party to run for Vice President on the Progressive party ticket of Henry Wallace in 1948.

First Hurdle

Taylor Tuesday made the first big hurdle in his attempt at a political comeback when he won the Democratic nomination for senator in the state's primary election. His victory over political science instructor Claude Burtenshaw put him opposite the veteran Republican Sen. Henry Dworshak this fall.

Taylor attributed his primary victory to hard work and his drumfire attack on administration foreign and farm policies.

He hit virtually every city and hamlet in the state with his sound truck, holding political rallies wherever it appeared he could find a few listeners.

Same Views

Taylor left no doubt that he has the same views he had when he served his first term from 1944 to 1950.

"I'm a liberal—a disciple of Roosevelt," he said in an interview. "I believe in keeping money moving and don't like the tight money philosophy of the Republicans."

He said we need a complete reversal of foreign policy, "start over again and live according to the golden rule."

"By helping corrupt dictators such as Chiang Kai-shek we alienated the people of the world. It proved a buying of ill will."

On other major issues he campaigned for 100 per cent parity for the farmer—with the specification that the formula for figuring farm parity be revised.

For Public Power

And he lined up squarely on the public side of the explosive public vs. private power issue by saying he favors a federal high dam at Hells Canyon on the Snake River.

Taylor returned to the Idaho political wars after several years in California. He said when he announced his candidacy last winter that he had been working as a carpenter in Redding, Calif., and had callouses on his hands to prove it.

This was not the first such experience for the versatile 50-year-old Idahoan, who has done everything from herd sheep barefooted as a boy to conduct a theatrical troupe. Prior to his election to the Senate in 1944, he put in a couple of years as a war-time sheet metal worker in California.

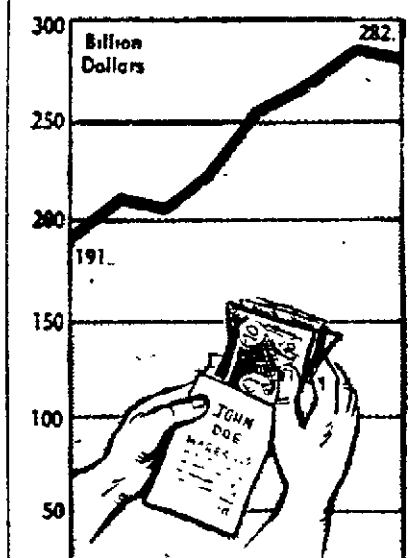

Recapture Prisoner at Galesburg

GALESBURG, Ill. (P)—State, sheriff and city police combined forces Wednesday night to recapture Merle Pickel, 25-year-old prisoner who earlier Wednesday broke away from a deputy sheriff and escaped.

Pickel was recaptured at the home of his mother, Mrs. Roxie Pickel, five minutes after he had entered the home through a window. Still wearing handcuffs, he surrendered meekly.

Pickel fled while being led away from the Knox County Courthouse after he was deprived of probation on a 1 to 14 year sentence for perjury last February.

He was accused of transporting a 15-year-old girl to Chicago, which authorities contended was grounds for probation violation.

BIG PILE—Above Newschart traces personal income in the U. S. from 1947 to the present. In 1947 it was $191 billion, jumped to $269.5 billion in 1948, but dropped to $205.9 billion in 1949. Since then it rose to an all-time high of $284.5 billion in 1953. During the first third of 1954 personal income leveled to $282 billion. Data from U. S. Department of Commerce.

World Council Meeting Charged With Tensions

Churches vs. Communism Center of Controversy

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

EVANSTON, Ill. (P)—Churchmen from the East and the West headed today for a religious arena which is charged with tensions—both religious and political.

The gathering is in the cause of Christianity.

But around this central purpose swirls a haze of doubts and discords that could roll in to frustrate the meeting—the Assembly of the World Council of Churches here, starting Sunday for two weeks.

"There are dangers, but there also are hopes," said Dr. G. K. A. Bell, Britain's Bishop of Chichester and chairman of the council's central committee.

"The danger in a great body of churches meeting in a time of so much strain, antagonism and hostility is that some may seek to reflect their own political and national points of view.

"But there is hope that they will all come together in a mood to submit various experiences and insights even ideologies, to the mastership and judgment of Christ.

Although the council faces a host of touchy social and religious questions, probably the most explosive is the relationship of Christianity and communism, and the presence of delegates from Communist countries.

At least 18 churchmen from Red-ruled lands—from East Germany and 5 each from Hungary and Czechoslovakia—will be among the 1500 representatives. Others from Poland and Yugoslavia also may attend.

"Communist collaborationists" is the label applied to them by Rep. Alvin M. Bentley (R-Mich.), who says he will hold hearings simultaneously with the assembly to show them "false pretenses."

Masqueraders

He said they are "servants of world communism who masquerade as men of God."

Others, including two Midwestern American Legion posts, also have denounced admission of the delegates. Daniel A. Poling, editor of the Christian Herald, called them "puppets of atheistic communism," and said:

"Evanston must declare communism antireligious, anti-Christ and utterly antagonistic to everything for which the church should stand, or Evanston will divide the American Protestant community."

However, none of the 161 Orthodox, Old Catholic, Anglican and Protestant denominations in 48 countries belonging to the council have opposed representation of the Iron Curtain churches.

Dr. W. A. Visser't Hooft, the council's general secretary, said some of us may disagree with positions taken by Iron Curtain churchmen, but council membership is based solely on a "spiritual criterion"—recognition of Christ as divine Lord and Savior.

Must Keep Touch

He added it is "terribly important for this movement to keep in touch with the churches" behind the Iron Curtain, and do "everything we can to strengthen the links with Christians in those countries."

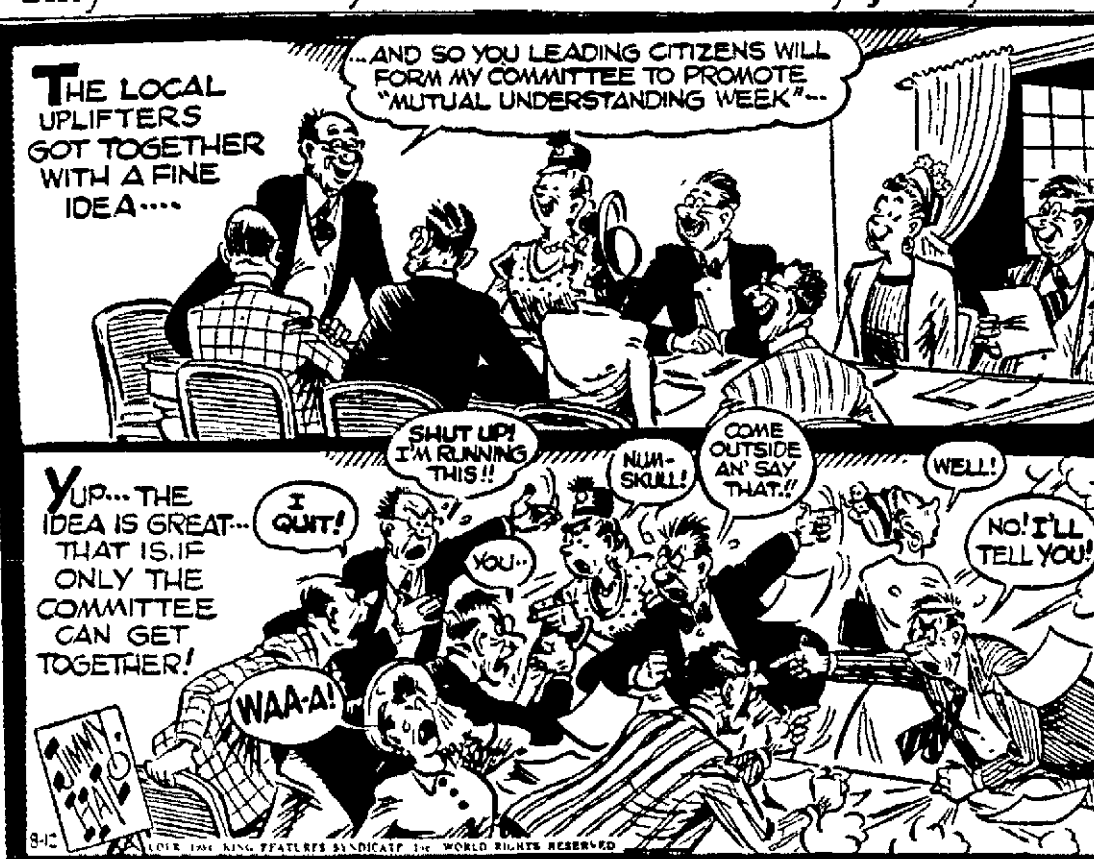

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, who as a church leader clashed with Iron Curtain delegates at the council's founding assembly six years ago at Amsterdam before he entered the government, backed their admission now.

Well, Well!

ANDERSON, S. C. (P)—There's an old joke about stealing a well. A deep well pump, including the motor, a 30-gallon tank, and a quantity of pipe were stolen from a well outside a house under construction.

Is Red Policy Shifting?

It comes as a big surprise that Russia and Soviet Germany have now politely accepted President Eisenhower's offer of aid to areas recently devastated by Danube River floods.

The shock is the greater because shortly before the official Communist newspaper in East Germany had scoffed at the offer, charging the United States with trying to recruit spies and saboteurs through its proposed food aid program.

Last year, it will be recalled, the Communists, scornfully rejected a similar offer for East Germany. But the United States set up aid stations in West Berlin and invited Germans from the eastern zone to come across.

By the thousands, they did. The food parcels they received were a tremendous embarrassment to the Reds. Seldom has the West made better propaganda.

Possibly the Russians have learned the lesson of this experience. Surely they could not have wished to court deliberately another setback in prestige such as they suffered in 1953.

If this is so, why then did the Red newspaper in Germany quickly deprecate this new offer? The answer probably is that the Communist propaganda mechanism is a cumbersome affair, featuring automatic responses in many situations. Sometimes, however, the reaction is too swift and does not reflect a shift in policy at the higher levels.

Russia may have had other purposes than simply desiring to avoid a new propaganda defeat. Communists currently are busy trying to convince the world they are in a new mood of sweet reasonableness. Gullible France, facing a decision of importance on the European army project, might be impressed.

There is also the prospect the Reds may resort to some of their special tricks, gumming up the aid programs with administrative delays and other devices, or attempting to steal a large share of the credit.

Evidently this country already is on guard against trickery. It has asked the League of Red Cross Societies to distribute the food to the Danube area, thus minimizing contact with Communist authorities. Somehow, too, it must assure American identification on all aid parcels.

If possible trickery can thus be circumvented, the United States—and the free world—will get the credit owing for another demonstration that in human disasters the enslaved nations seldom can solve their own troubles. It is the humanitarianism of free men, plus their resources, which saves the day.

She Will Be Missed

All the world is saddened at the untimely death of 20-year-old Emilie Dionne, one of the five Canadian girls whose multiple birth back in May, 1934, gave men a bright miracle to take their minds off the grim signs of gathering global conflict.

People everywhere followed closely the story of the quint's brave surmounting of all the early obstacles to a healthy, normal life. In maturity, the girls maintained close ties even though they were finding separate patterns of personality. To those who remembered their beginnings, the biggest shock seemed to be expressed in the question: "Are they really 20 years old?"

The first dark hint of impending tragedy came a short while ago when Emilie was found wandering in Montreal, evidently lost. She was described then as "distracted and confused."

Now she is suddenly dead, of a series of epileptic seizures. Autopsy disclosed the family secret, that Emilie had suffered from such attacks from an early age.

Like her sisters, Annette, Marie, Cecile and Yvonne, we shall all miss Emilie, and remember her fondly.

The Doctor Says:

Good Diet, Prompt Care, Help Lessen Tooth Decay

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

More than 22 million newly decayed teeth are believed to develop each year among the 38 million children between six and 18 years of age in the United States.

Probably 15 out of 100 adults have artificial teeth, and another 20 out of the hundred should have them. No wonder our dentists are busy!

All of us can help to lessen tooth decay. One measure which is particularly important for children is the maintenance of a good diet.

This involves adequate amounts of milk and milk products, fruits, vegetables, cereals, eggs, lean meat, poultry, fish and whole grain bread. In fact, anything which aids the body to keep in good health, including diet, also apparently helps to lessen the amount of decay.

Mouth cleanliness is also important.

Food particles easily catch in the teeth, decay rapidly, and in doing so, injure the hard surfaces of the teeth. It is best to brush the teeth after each meal; if this can't be done rinsing the mouth with water will help some.

Those grownups who do not already know it should be instructed by their dentists as to just how their teeth should be brushed, and children should receive the same instruction as early in life as possible.

In some cases, too, dental floss can be used between the teeth to clean out food particles, but instruction in how to do this is desirable, in order to avoid injuring the gums.

There is much reason to believe that sweets injure the hard tissue, or enamel of the teeth. For this reason candy and other sweets should be taken in moderation and the mouth always washed or rinsed promptly, immediately thereafter.

It is hardly necessary to add that all of us should go regularly to the dentist who can identify small cavities or difficulties early and correct them promptly.

All this means we carry our own responsibility for our teeth, even if the highly desirable addition of fluorides to the public water supply is greatly extended.

HOLLYWOOD (NEA)—Notable Quotables:

CLIFTON WEBB, about entertainment:

"Magic went out of show business and out of stars during the war. Now the magic of Ziegfeld and Dillingham and Frohman is coming back. Garbo had it, Jeanne Eagels had it. Now Audrey Hepburn has it. Pictures can have it, too."

DAN DURYEA, about his movie career:

"Based on past performances, my role in 'Foxfire' is a sympathetic one. I growl at Jane Russell a few times, but I don't get to belt her even once."

JULIE HARRIS, off-beat-looking actress:

"I'm not the type of actress who can fit into most pictures. It's hard to find the right kind of films for me. I'm not the standard movie type. I know that."

STUDIO EXECUTIVE, to his press agent:

"Now let's be fair about this picture. Just say it's terrific."

SOPHIE TUCKER, about Betty Hutton playing the Last of the Red-Hot Mamas on the screen:

"I have to be played by an actress with vitality and Betty Hutton has it. Everybody on the screen today seems to be a seller of sex. Sophie Tucker was never sexy."

RONALD REAGAN, mixing important offices in flicker affairs:

"I'm running for nothing but the actor of the year. Holding office (president of the Screen Actors Guild) just about wrecked my career. You're seen across the table at a committee meeting and suddenly there are only parts as committee members. Just trying to serve the motion picture industry is the quickest way in the world to get kicked in the pants. I'm not bitter. I'm just going to let the United Nations save the world."

JOSE FERRER, on why he's mixing live TV offers:

"I can't do my best work under the limited rehearsal time of live TV. Film is different. I'll do that. I don't understand people who insist that you lose spontaneity when you do shows for television on film. The movies have been spontaneous for 40 years."

ANN BAKER, TV's "Corliss Archer," denying the show will be a carbon copy of "My Little Margie":

"My father in the series isn't the hysterical type. And it's the boy friend who always starts the trouble."

EDDIE ALBERT, favoring movie roles like he essayed in "Roman Holiday" and "Carrie":

"But if they don't come along there's TV and more night-club dates than Margo and I can possibly play. And there's the New York stage. We're fat and happy."

"As George Burns puts it, 'There's no place in show business left for an actor to be lousy.'"

KEEFE BRANSFELLE, acting for the first time in nine months in "Mad at the World" since playing Eddie Cantor on the screen:

"Ida Lupino (the producer) knows me. I feel that it will set me back in the acting field again and that I'll come up with a fine performance."

HENRY FONDA, about rumors that he'll become a Broadway song-and-dance man:

"The story started when Elmer Martin and Cy Feuer wanted me to do a Broadway show. A musical version of 'Annie' Row. They told me it didn't matter whether I sang on key or no. Then they passed it over to Rodgers and Hammerstein. They asked me to

Being Asked to Pour Is Job, Not Honor, Writer Says

Two of Washington's social arbiters are in disagreement over whether or not it is a greater honor to be asked to preside over the coffee pot or the teapot at a reception or afternoon tea.

One of them seriously maintains that the woman, whose husband has the higher ranking, should always be asked to serve the coffee, with the tea pouring being left to the wife of the man of lower rank.

As one who has poured both tea and coffee, though not in Washington, I would like to point out to the misinformed experts that it is NO honor to be asked to pour either.

These you sit in a straight chair ready to smile sweetly, but not too broadly, at each woman who reaches your elbow and stands waiting for her cup of tea or coffee. You're missing the party. You feel the need of a cup of that coffee yourself, but you know you can't have any until every other guest is served.

POURING IS NO FUN

And if you pour coffee, or tea, to 200 women, 199 of them will say, "Doesn't the table look lovely? Such a charming flower arrangement."

That's what you get for conversation, when if you hadn't been asked to pour you might be off in a corner with a good friend paying out of the corner of your mouth: "How soon do you think we can get out of here?"

When you get right down to it, there is little honor for anyone invited to a big tea.

It means you have to get dressed up; drag out your white gloves and fanciest hat, park three blocks from the tea table, stand up during the whole affair, and smile at a lot of people you never see except at teas.

All you've been asked to do is to be the "stage setting" for some guest of honor some hostess wants to impress with how many charming people she knows.

But at least if you're just a guest you can sneak out the minute you've finished your cup of tea, and leave looking little sandwich, and devoured cupcake.

But if you're asked to pour, you are stuck for the whole affair. So it's no honor, whether you pour tea or coffee.

It must be nice for the male frog every year being leap year.

NEW YORK—Both Max Ascoli, of New York, a refugee from Mussolini's wrath, and Arthur J. Goldsmith, of the Waldorf Tower, have interfered in the politics of other states in an effort to elect senators and congressmen amenable to their will.

Ascoli's will may be devined from editorials in a magazine which he publishes called "The Reporter." He wrote that a "peace without appeasement" might demand "recognition of Red China when we are no longer at war with that country."

Goldsmith is less specific, but he tried to eliminate Senator Pat McCarran, of Nevada, after McCarran had fought through for the exclusion and deportation of Communists. Goldsmith collects slush-funds to finance such intrusions into the domestic politics of unsuspecting states. One Franklin, a candidate against McCarran, in 1950, was invited and came to New York to confer with Goldsmith and others of his cult at the center in the Waldorf Tower.

About that time, Alfred Kohlberg, an aggressive anti-Communist associated with Rabbi Ben Shimon in sun activities, was invited to a meeting arranged by one of Goldsmith's "committees." There he found himself face to face with Telford Taylor, a lawyer who was made an army brigadier by the Roosevelt-Truman machine to take part in the "war crimes" prosecutions in Germany. In those "trials" the Russians both prosecuted and sat in judgment on their own partners in "crime," for the primary crime was the rape of Poland in which Russia took an enthusiastic part. Lately, Taylor has been attorney in court for Harry Bridges, opposing his deportation as a Communist.

Some months ago, Taylor was invited to address the Corps of Cadets at West Point and turned the occasion into an attack on Senator McCarthy. The administration of the academy has refused to place responsibility for this exploit in partisan politics. When Kohlberg and Taylor were introduced, Taylor turned quickly away. Kohlberg says that was all right with him and he adds that an ex-plcit, written demand on Goldsmith for a list of contributors to his "committee" and the amounts, was ignored.

Ascoli and his wife both were discovered in a list of contributors to one of Goldsmith's "committees." Mrs. Ascoli, a daughter of the multi-millionaire Julius Rosenwald, of Sears-Roebuck, contributed under her name as of a previous marriage.

Goldsmith sent at least two contributions to the late Senator Tobey, of Vermont, and Ascoli at present is blanketing New Hampshire with reprints of an article in his "Reporter" which attacks Senator Styles Bridges, a pro-American Republican of forthright mien. Delmont T. Dunbar, the editor of the Bangor Daily News, reports that two years ago Ascoli's magazine "sent a hundred thousand or so tear sheets into Maine" in an effort to eliminate Ralph O. Brewster, also a pro-American Republican. These propaganda jobs cost a great deal of money.

Admittedly the stealth of these political activities makes it impossible to draw firm political lines and to separate one force and its "ism" from each of the other forces and its objectives. For example, Goldsmith seems not to have taken a firm stand against McCarthy. He is on record as a Republican according to his own lights. On the other hand, in 1942, he was interviewed by a government investigating agency about Francis Adams Henson, of the violent revolutionary Communist group led by Jay Lovestone who now enjoys the favor of Dave Dubinsky and President Eisenhower.

Goldsmith said Henson undoubtedly was loyal to the U.S.A. Lovestone has ignored the question whether he ever recanted his exhortations to bloody revolution and a system of Soviets in the United States. Goldsmith also said Henson made "investigations" for "various committees" with which he, Goldsmith, was associated, regarding "isolationist" senators and representatives.

To go a significant step further, Henson was the Washington representative of "Market Analysis, Inc.," run by one Sanford Griffith, a mysterious but persevering character who was turned up in highly interesting activities by the old Dies committee. Many telegrams were obtained by the Dies committee reflecting covert political activities directed from secret headquarters in New York. Numerous checks for a large aggregate amount were obtained and photographed revealing an organized campaign against Standard Oil of New Jersey which would have helped business rivals of SONJ by smearing Standard as a friend of the Hitler government. Griffith and Henson were involved in this activity.

As I have said, all this is very complex and confusing but one reason, and perhaps the principal one, why it never clears up is that Congressional committees have shied away from the subject ever since Dies was put out of business for exposing Communists and opposing the Roosevelt regime. Griffith is active in the Overseas Press Club and only recently was invited to lecture at Colgate university.

Altogether, there seems to be a common purpose and a joint effort. The purpose is to swing elections by the use of money raised in the East by pouncing on situations in states of small population where a few thousand votes will beat an uncompromising nationalist or patriot and seat a stooge subject to the desires of Goldsmith, Ascoli and their contributors. The issue, in the opinion of the pro-American nationalists, is the preservation of the United States as a sovereign nation under the Constitution.

The disclosure that Brentano's, the mighty book-selling chain, was backing Ascoli's magazine with a subscription campaign seems indicative. The second officer of Brentano's, Leonard Schwartz, records in "Who's Who" that he studied at the New School of Social Research. Ascoli was a member of the faculty of this layout. Hans Eisler, a Red who got into this country through the personal intercession of Eleanor Roosevelt, was subsidized over a long period on the pretext that he was teaching music at this school. Hans and his brother Gerhardt, both have fled back to the workers' paradise.

Anniversary of Clark Rickards Is Celebrated

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Rickard of Lincoln Way entertained 34 relatives and guests with a buffet supper Wednesday evening in their home. The party was in celebration of their 45th wedding anniversary.

Summer flowers decorated the home and the buffet table was most attractive with its flowers and other appointments in keeping with the sapphire, 45th anniversary, theme.

A gift from the group was presented to the honorees. Among the out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Elmer E. Rice, Moline; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Piper, Rockford; and Mrs. Olivia Kennedy, Rochelle.

Patio Shop Is Place of Beauty

First day visitors, Wednesday, to Cook's Patio Shop caught a glimpse of the beauty of Paris and New Orleans right here in Dixon. From its charming, New Orleans style, entrance at 107 Truman Court, throughout its entire six rooms, the upstairs shop, offers the latest in gifts. Truman court will be remembered as having been named for Fred Truman, a prominent Dixon citizen.

Just like the fascinating courts you see in Paris and other foreign countries, such as the quaint hide away places in the West Indies or our own New Orleans, is the new shop. Identical to the little alley or patio of the foreign country, is the entrance of a charming array of potted plants, miniature lighted lamp posts and gay flowers and the inside shop offering gifts and merchandise that intrigue the buyer.

This whole idea is something that might be used in various ways by others to beautify an alley that would in turn bring dollars and dimes as well as interest and beauty.

Allene Blume, Raymond M. Voss Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Voss of Ashton, were wed July 24, at the Blume home in Lindenwood with Rev. Paul Nicely, of the Lindenwood Union church, officiating. Mrs. Voss is the former Allene Blume. Polo Bride Dons Blue Suit For Wedding

POLO — Saturday evening, Aug. 7 at seven o'clock in the Polo Christian Church occurred the marriage of Miss Marilyn Joan Kitzmiller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Norkus, Polo, and Lawrence H. Slifer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Slifer, Polo. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. A. E. Shearer, in the presence of the immediate families.

The attendants were Miss Lorraine Slifer, sister of the bridegroom, and Keith Kitzmiller, brother of the bride.

The bride wore a light blue suit with white accessories. Lorraine wore a grey dress, with white accessories.

Both mothers wore navy blue suits.

Attend Polo High

Marilyn is a graduate of Polo Community high school in the class of 1952. Her husband also attended Polo Community High. He has been in the service for the past six months, having been stationed at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo. He returned to camp Tuesday and will be stationed in South Carolina.

Mrs. Slifer will remain in Polo for the present.

Party Honoree

OHIO—Miss Margaret Anderson R.N., who has served this community for many years, was pleasantly surprised at the Princeton Hospital recently when the staff of the hospital held a noon party in the dining room in honor of her birthday. They presented her with a gift.

Upon arriving home, she was met by Mrs. Amata Goble, Mrs. Mary Pittman, Mrs. Marion Sisler, Mrs. Beverly Knuth, Mrs. Betty Greenwood, Walnut and Mrs. Marie Horton, Princeton, who had gathered to help her celebrate. They served ice cream, cake and coffee. The cake was baked and decorated by Mrs. Sisler.

To pan summer squash, heat a small amount of butter or margarine in a large skillet. Add the squash cut into thin crosswise slices, cover and cook until tender and lightly browned on one side. Turn the vegetable pieces and brown lightly on the other side. Watch so as not to scorch. Season with salt and pepper and serve at once.

You can give white sauce good flavor by cooking a little onion in the butter used in making the sauce. This sauce is particularly good with spinach.

Decline Is

(Continued From Page 1) vidual and family income minus personal income tax payments; and bank debits outside New York City. The President then cited figures to indicate that gross national product was 2.7 per cent less in the first half of this year as compared with the first six months of 1953; non-agricultural employment declined 2.6 per cent; personal income was up 0.2 per cent; disposable personal income up 1.4 per cent and bank debits, outside New York, up 0.9 per cent.

New York Excluded Parenthetically the report said New York was excluded from the bank debit figures because they are "dominated by financial transactions." The suggestion was that debits on other areas give a truer picture of funds exchanged for actual goods and services.

"It is fair to conclude from these facts that the recent economic decline, on an overall basis, has been very small," Eisenhower summed up. Using the same yardsticks for comparison of the first half of this year with the first half of 1952, the President cited figures intended to show that in each case the picture was better from January through June of this year—as much as 7.2 per cent in the case of bank debits outside New York.

Eisenhower, in rating 1953 as "a still better year than 1954 is turning out to be," said that means "the overall performance of the American economy thus far during this administration has been better than during any earlier time."

On Wages Turning to wages, which the President described as one of the principal expressions of the progressiveness of the American economy, he said they have continued to rise.

In the case of wages in the manufacturing field, for example, he said that from the first half of 1952 to the first half of this year the increase was 9.1 per cent, and that from the first half of 1953 to first half of 1954, the climb was 2.9 per cent.

As for prices, Eisenhower had this to say: "When we compare the first half of 1954 with the first half of 1953, we find that the index of wholesale prices is up 0.8 per cent and that the index of consumer prices is up 1.1 per cent.

"Not only are those increases tiny, but our measures of price movements fail to take account of discounts, concessions, bargain sales, etc., that have been a significant feature of recent markets."

Money Value Intact "If we allow for these developments we can surely say, without the slightest fear of contradiction, that the value of people's money has remained entirely intact."

Looking at the overall picture the President said the statistics he presented "suggest a high — or even an improving — state of economic welfare."

In the unemployment field, the President said that during July, 1949, 8.4 per cent of the civilian labor force was out of work as compared with 5.1 per cent in July this year.

On the other hand, he said, 5 per cent of the civilian labor force was jobless from January through March in 1949 and 3.5 per cent during the comparable period this year.

POLO — (Special) — Arrangements are being made at the Melvin funeral home, Polo, for Lloyd E. "Pat" Albright, who died in Chicago following a lingering illness. Formerly of Polo he was the son of the late John and Maggie Beck Albright.

Survivors include a brother, George Albright and three sisters, Mrs. Alice Hoffman, Mrs. Mabel Bender and Mrs. Lucy Wynn, Polo.

Mrs. Jack Giblin while Mrs. Long is on vacation. The couple said they found no evidence of anything being taken.

School Board Awards Oil Bids, Aug. 11

The Dixon Board of Education Wednesday night awarded contracts to John Fox and Prescott Oil Co., both of Dixon, to provide fuel oil for three schools until June 15, 1955.

In calling for bids the board asked the oil companies to give the amount of discount they would offer.

Fox offered a discount of .0009 cents per gallon from the posted price on No. 5 oil for Jefferson and Washington Schools. Smith Oil and Refining Co., Rockford; Prescott; Dixon Ice and Fuel Co., and Standard Oil Co. offered no discount.

Prescott said he would supply Number 2 oil for Hazelwood school at one cent less per gallon than the posted price. Fox and Standard Oil offered to cut their price one-half cent. The other bidders offered no discount.

The board voted to install a stoker in Lincoln School. Kline and Heckman received the contract of $3,940. The action had been deferred pending a report from the buildings and grounds committee, which said the stoker would be more practical at present than converting to use of fuel oil.

Hic, Hic

DUNCAN, Okla. (AP) — L. O. Pryor, a furniture and appliance dealer, knows now he shouldn't have attended that livestock auction with the hiccoughs.

Pryor said he responded involuntarily with a "hic" each time the bid was raised, and went home the bewildered owner of six Shetland ponies.

Ike Becoming Key Man In November Elections

Congress Report Seen as Beginning of Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower appears to be inching into a leading role in the battle for control of Congress despite his avowed plans to remain aloof from local political skirmishes.

Administration leaders said today Eisenhower hopes to go on television and radio with a 30-minute talk on the administration's legislative record within 24 hours after Congress ends its regular work, probably next week.

Eisenhower told his news conference Wednesday he was planning what he called a little bit of a talk to review Congress' record since he took office in January, 1953. He added he didn't want to cheat on himself by saying any more at this time.

Demand Equal Time
Democrats indicated they may demand equal time to counter what some of them said they regard as a Republican kickoff for the congressional campaign.

Despite Eisenhower's repeated statements that he would avoid getting involved in local political fights, his schedule already includes appearances in Illinois, New Jersey and Kentucky. Pressure is reported beginning to build up heavily from other areas. The President has also taken time to pose for pictures with more than 100 GOP House members.

GOP National Committee officials have turned to Vice President Nixon to carry the heavy burden of a political stump tour. Nixon starts his active campaigning with a speech at the Ohio State Fair Sept. 15 and is expected to make several excursions to different parts of the country before the November voting.

None Like Ike
Many Republicans say, however, that there is no voice equal to Eisenhower's in defending the record of the GOP-controlled Congress.

Chuck Roast, Smoked Ham Featured at Lower Prices

By The Associated Press
Chuck roast at prices ranging from 4 to 10 cents a pound below last week will be the favorite feature in the nation's food stores this weekend.

And if you're looking for a change in pace, check your local market's price on smoked ham. Numerous stores plan to advertise that item at lower prices.

Meat men point to several other good buys for Sunday dinner — leg of lamb will be down a couple of cents a pound in many cities. There'll be lots of specials on fryers and roasting chickens, and legs and rumps of veal will be on the bargain counter again.

Ribs A Bargain
Prime ribs will be spotlighted by some stores at reductions of two to four cents a pound, but in most areas price tags will remain the same as last week. Reflecting rising wholesale prices, pork chops will be a bit higher in many outlets.

Beef went up slightly at wholesale this week, but there seems to be no likelihood of a sharp rise ahead. Supplies will be large for the rest of the year, says the U.S. Department of Agriculture. It's opening a campaign to get people to eat more beef, and from Sept. 30 to Oct. 9 will be joined by the vegetable trade in a campaign featuring beef and potatoes, onions and many other hardy vegetables that are in excellent supply.

Vegetables Good Buy
Once again you'll find your best buys in vegetables among the wide variety grown in areas near your city. Produce men consider cabbage, cucumbers, beans, beets, corn and small peppers especially worthwhile. Also good buys, they say, are potatoes, onions, eggplant, tomatoes, romaine and western lettuce, cauliflower and celery.

Bananas will be featured by many markets this weekend. Cantaloupes and honeydew melons continue to sell at reasonable prices, and Persian and Casaba melons are a bit lower than they have been.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS WASTE

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good health, when some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feeling miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up at night or frequent passages. Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. ord of the GOP-controlled Congress. Eisenhower has insisted that the Republicans must stand or fall on the record made on the administration's program.

Sen. Carlson (R-Kan.) said he thinks the Eisenhower administration "can be proud of the record it has made in reducing taxes and expenditures and in handling foreign affairs."

Sen. Symington (D-Mo.) said he doesn't believe the farmers are satisfied with the administration's program in that field and will show it with their votes.

However, Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.), who piloted the President's flexible price support program through the Senate, said he believes farm prices are going to strengthen.

"If the farmers believe they are in good shape in November, they'll vote Republican," he declared.

Sees "Difficulty"

Sen. Monroney (D-Okla.) said it is his opinion that Eisenhower will have difficulty in finding anything "to brag about" in the Republican record of the Congress. He added:

"Eisenhower's big victory—and he is welcome to claim it—is in reducing farm prices on the five basic crops which have cost the least in government supports in the last 20 years."

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP) — City detectives raced out of police headquarters Wednesday night on a telephone tip that "a burglar is trapped inside a building at 323 East Oglethorpe Avenue."

They were speeding away in a car before the awful truth dawned — the address given was that of police headquarters.

Parolee, Trusted For 11 Years Grabs Payroll

NEW YORK (AP) — Eleven years ago Albert Dorsey was paroled on a burglary sentence and given a job by a Brooklyn shoe factory. The 54-year-old Dorsey became the firm's "most trusted employee."

Wednesday, as paychecks were being handed out at the plant, Dorsey suddenly grabbed $3,750 in payroll envelopes from a woman bookkeeper and fled.

Factory Vice President Samuel Dones said:

"I would have trusted him with anything. I even let him keep a set of keys to this place. Why did he do a thing like that?"

Union Asks, Gets Cut in Milk Price

DETROIT (AP) — Union employees of six Detroit dairies have approved an agreement to cut the price of home-delivered milk by three cents a quart—in lieu of a pay raise.

Brunson Gilbert, president of Local 155 of the AFL Milk Drivers and Dairy Employees Union, said the workers first sought a $12-a-week pay increase.

But they decided to forego it, he said, if the dairies would cut prices the equivalent of a $12-a-week per route. The three-cent reduction would benefit all customers who use more than 30 quarts a month.

Gilbert said the union men felt they could increase their sales enough to make up the $12—and help milk consuming families at the same time. The six dairies serve about 60,000 customers.

Soviet Press Makes Drive On Cuss Words

MOSCOW (AP) — The big Soviet press campaign to clean up Russia's morals has taken a new tack. Cut out the cussing, the men are told.

Komsomol Pravda, the organ of the Soviet Communist Youth League, is spearheading the effort to shush profane and vulgar language.

A drive against drunkenness and hoodlums already has been going on several months with good results, the papers claim.

Now Komsomol Pravda has cast a disapproving glance toward the Urals industrial center of Sverdlovsk. The youth paper spread over two columns a letter from a

New Leads in Thorne Death Says Coroner

CHICAGO (AP) — Coroner Walter E. McCarron says he has uncovered "three or four" new leads in the death of mail order heir Montgomery Ward Thorne.

The coroner refused to comment on the leads but said they became available after a coroner's jury decided July 29 that Thorne died of pneumonia.

Thorne, 20, was found dead in his apartment June 19.

Police Commissioner Timothy O'Connor said Wednesday Capt. Harry Penzin, deputy chief of detectives, will head a new investigation based on McCarron's leads.

McCarron said the new information "could change the entire picture if it is developed."

"As coroner I am bound by the verdict of the jury. But as a citizen and taxpayer I say he died under mysterious circumstances," McCarron said.

Alarm Gone So Burglars Move in CHICAGO (AP) — Milton Wisnick, 41, discontinued a burglar alarm service for his North Side drug store on July 1 because, he said, it was "too expensive and unsatisfactory." Burglars Wednesday broke into the drug store, which also is a postal substation and stole $1,020 in cash, $1,000 in stamps, 500 money order blanks, a quantity of saving stamps, a portable floor safe and $500 worth of cigarettes.

Blames Church For Drop in Attendance

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A leading American Episcopal layman says that the church itself is to blame for keeping members at home on Sundays by failing to understand their worldly problems.

"Church leaders simply don't know enough about the areas of life where people work," Charles P. Taft told the World Anglican Congress Wednesday night. Taft, a Cincinnati attorney and brother of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, is a former president of the National Council of Churches.

"In 1786 only 10 per cent of our people were church members and 140 years later nearly 50 per cent belong," Taft told the 670 delegates from all parts of the world, "but they don't come to church."

Taft said preachers and theologians "have often little idea how completely unintelligible what is said in the pulpit is to large classes . . . unintelligible in that it makes no effective contact with their experience."

Mom Is Hooked

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — Mrs. Ann Burkhead, aimed a spank at her unruly 4-year-old son. Then she went to a hospital. A fish stringer the boy was holding behind him went through her right hand.

Nationals Nip Rotary, 3-2

Larry Ortigiesen's wildness proved his and Rotary's downfall last night in an extra inning major league game played at the Dixon State School. The Nationals won in the seventh inning when Ortigiesen gave up two singles and hit two batters to force in the winning run.

Rotary had come from behind to tie the score in the top of the sixth inning. The Rotarians failed to score in the top of the seventh.

In the bottom of the seventh, Smokey Rink singled for the Nats. Maurice Figeley followed suit. Dick Rink flied out but Ortigiesen hit Dick McCoy with a pitch and then hit Ron Atterberry to force home the winning run.

The Nats opened the scoring in the third when Don Watkins walked, Figeley singled and Dick Rink and McCoy walked to force in a run. In the fifth, Smokey Rink walked, and Dick Rink and McCoy singled to drive Smokey home.

Rotary scored first in the fifth when Gary Ortigiesen opened with a triple but was out when Ostergrat hit a grounder and Ortigiesen was run down between third and home. Ostergrat took second on the play and scored when Chico Contreras singled.

Harold Bardo opened the sixth with a double for Rotary, took third on a passed ball and scored on an out.

Give Younger Set Chance To Win Tam World Prize

CHICAGO (P)—For the first time in a dozen years, golf's younger set is given a good chance to crash through the so-called old guard and cash in on the richest tournament in history—the "World" tournament opening today at Tam O'Shanter.

The youngest winner of any Tam title was Byron Nelson who took the 1941 inaugural at the age of 29. With $50,000 in cash and a $50,000 exhibition contract on the line, such seasoned campaigners as Sam Snead, Cary Middlecoff, Lloyd Mangrum, Jimmy Demaret, Peter Cooper and the recent All-American winner, Jerry Barber, are favored.

Three Youngsters
All are over 40 or pushing it and the experts think it will take such crusty fellows as these to withstand the pressure of what amounts to about $360 per shot for the potential champion.

But there are at least three youngsters who are not too awed by the big prize as the 72-hole stampee starts today. They are British Open champion Peter Thomson of Melbourne and Gene Littler, each barely 24, and 27-year-old Bob Toski.

The broad shouldered Thomson, who studied chemistry at Melbourne Technical College and shot a sensational 63 at the age of 19 in an Australian meet, is one of the hottest tourney pros of the moment. He finished third Sunday

By BEN PHLEGAR
Associated Press Sportswriter
At an age when most fast ball pitchers are relaxing with their press clippings, Virgil (Fire) Trucks of the Chicago White Sox is blazing his way to his best season in the majors.

The 35-year-old speed merchant needs only three more victories to equal his previous high of 20. In his present form this looks like a cinch.

Trucks, who broke into organized ball in 1936 and reached the big time in 1941, has been the sensation of the American League the past two seasons. After a miserable 5-19 record with Detroit in 1952, he posted a brilliant 20-10 mark last year, dividing his services between the old St. Louis Browns (5-4) and the White Sox (15-6).

His work won him top honors in the Associated Press poll for the "Comeback of the Year."

Trucks whipped the Baltimore Orioles 1-0 Wednesday for his 17th triumph and his fifth shutout against five setbacks. The Orioles reached him for nine hits but their most serious threat fizzled in the eighth when Minnie Minoso made a fine running catch of Jim Bried-weser's long foul fly with the bases loaded and two out.

The White Sox failed to gain in the pennant race since Cleveland and the Yankees also won. The Indians edged Detroit 2-0. New York beat Philadelphia 3-1. Boston pounded Washington 10-1 in an afternoon game but lost to the Senators at night 5-4.

Cleveland leads the Yankees by three games and the White Sox by seven.

In the National League the Brooklyn Dodgers clipped the idle New York Giants' lead to 3 1/2 games with a 3-2 squeaker over Philadelphia. Third-place Milwaukee moved within seven games by shading St. Louis 6-5 in a game shortened to seven innings by rain. Cincinnati hit five home runs, beating Chicago 8-1.

Ted Williams hit a pair of two-run homers, his 21st and 22nd of the season, in Boston's daylight triumph. His career total now is 359, good for a tie for sixth with Johnny Mize on the all-time list of home run sluggers.

Both of Cleveland's runs against Detroit were unearned. The Tiger infield contributed two errors and the Indians scored without a hit in the second inning. Mike Garcia pitched a four-hitter for his 14th victory.

A double by Danny O'Connell and a single by Joe Adcock in the seventh inning provided the winning margin for Milwaukee in an uphill battle. The Cards jumped in front only to be caught as the Braves scored four runs in the fifth. Two of them came on Eddie Mathews' 32nd home run.

In the home run romp at Cincinnati Ted Klussek and Jim Greengrass each hit two out of the park and Ed Bailey hit one.

PHILADELPHIA (P)—Home-grown offers to buy the Philadelphia Athletics ball club appeared today to have the inside track in the maneuvering to end the 54-year-old regime of the Mack family.

But there is still nothing definite that either the local syndicate's offer or the proposal from Chicagoan Arnold Johnson will be accepted by the Macks involved—Connie Mack Sr., and his two warring sons, Earle and Roy.

The Macks and the other two members of the board of directors, eastern league president Thomas H. Richardson and Gordon Burdette, put off any definite stand on the future of the financially shaky franchise yesterday after two reportedly uproarious sessions.

J. Channing Ellery, general counsel for the club, issued a statement after a meeting of directors Wednesday which said:

"Various proposals were discussed. No decision was reached. The board adjourned to meet again in approximately two weeks. All proposals will be thoroughly reviewed with particular emphasis on keeping the team in Philadelphia."

Johnson has said he will seek to transfer the franchise to Kansas City if he buys the team.

TOUHY ORDERED BACK TO PRISON—Handcuffed Roger Touhy (center) is led from U. S. Marshal's office in Chicago (Aug. 11) by Cook County Sheriff John Babb (left) and U. S. Marshal William Kipp after he was ordered back to prison by the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals pending review of the federal District Court decision which freed him Aug. 9. The 55-year-old prohibition-era gangster was freed by a ruling of District Judge John P. Barnes who held that the 1933 kidnapping of John (Jake the Barber) Factor, of which Touhy was convicted, was a hoax. (AP Photo).

Touhy Heads for Jail Cell Again Appeals Court Orders Gangster Confined

CHICAGO (P)—Prison gates will close again Thursday behind Roger Touhy, 55-year-old prohibition gangster, only three days after his dramatic release on a federal court order.

Judge Elmer J. Schackenberg of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals ordered Touhy's confinement pending an appeal by the state of that court order.

The news of the Appeals Court order reached Touhy while he was fishing in the Fox Lake region north of Chicago. Accompanied by his attorney, he surrendered in the office of the U. S. Marshal late Wednesday afternoon. "Not very long out," he commented wryly.

Freed Monday

Judge John P. Barnes freed Touhy Monday. His opinion stated that the convicted kidnaper was framed and Touhy's 199-year sentence for aiding a prison break was unconstitutional.

In 1934, Touhy was sentenced to 99 years for the kidnapping of John Factor. Judge Barnes said in his opinion the conviction was based on perjured testimony.

Robert B. Johnstone, Touhy's attorney, said he will test in the U. S. Supreme Court the appeal court's order sending Touhy back to prison pending the appeal.

Johnstone said, however, it might take a year merely to prepare the transcript for the appeal.

Asst. Illinois Atty. Gen. Ben Schwartz in the Appeal Court to put Touhy back in prison pending appeals "for the safety of society."

If the state wins its appeal, said Schwartz, Touhy would face the Charge Police Burglary Ring With $50,000 Thefts

BIRMINGHAM Ala. (P)—Arrest of four policemen and suspension of five others is the first-day score in a crackdown on police burglary rings estimated to involve $50,000 in loot.

Police Director Paul Singer warned that 50 or more policemen may have been involved in the operations over a two year period.

The retired Army officer issued the statement Wednesday as raiding squads led by superior officers searched the homes of 23 policemen for stolen goods.

Hunt Continues

Four officers had been jailed and five others suspended late Wednesday night, while the hunt continued on a round-the-clock basis.

Property of all kinds taken from the homes for an outdoor camp camped up at headquarters. Police Commissioner Robert Lindbergh estimated that $50,000 in money and property was stolen during the series of break-ins.

"We are going to track this down to the end," said Lindbergh. Singer cautioned the public that only a fraction of the department's 250 men are involved in possible crimes.

The 197-page statement of Travis A. Ferguson, a former police officer he had on three burglary charges, supplied key information for Wednesday's roundup.

Singer named him as implicating a lieutenant, a detective, two sergeants and 19 patrolmen in various burglaries.

List Crimes

Ferguson said police broke into safes and divided up money they found; stole whisky and beer; rifled a clothing store until they found suits that fitted them; burglarized stores and then called headquarters to report they were "letting them go," served as lookouts for one another, and had innocent sounding calls relayed on

AFL Raps Policies Of NLRB

NEW YORK (P)—The AFL executive council says a "new antilabor policy" has been put into effect by the National Labor Relations Board, and "eventually the Eisenhower administration must be held responsible."

After the council made the declaration in a statement Wednesday, a spokesman asked AFL President George Meany what "eventually" was intended to mean.

"That means November, doesn't it?" he replied. "You can't hold them responsible until you exercise your franchise at the polls."

"Gradually but favorably terrific pressure is being applied against labor through a process of tightening the restrictions contained in the Taft-Hartley Act, not by new legislation but by administrative action."

"It must be remembered that the Taft-Hartley Act did not wipe out all of labor's fundamental rights, even though it impaired many of them. The NLRB is now going much further in clamping down on unions than the law requires."

Boy Objects to 'Fatty' Title, Stops Eating

OKLAHOMA CITY (P)—A 13-year-old Emu, Okla., farm boy didn't like being called "Fatty" by his schoolmates so he did something about it.

Five months ago, Dean Roberts weighed 105 pounds — not too hefty for his 5-foot-5 frame but in his own mind just a bit too chunky. He decided to reduce and practically stopped eating.

At first, his parents thought nothing of it but when his weight dropped to 62 pounds, and he still insisted he wasn't hungry, they brought him to a hospital here for a checkup.

When tests showed no glandular trouble, doctors ordered him fed through tubes. He gained two pounds each day for five days.

But the ordeal was too much and the youngster promised he'd eat for himself. Then the story came out. He was worried about the teasing at school over his weight.

Now he's up to 75 pounds and doctors let him go back home.

Cleared of Drunk Driving Charge; It Cost a Dime

LOS ANGELES (P)—Gerald Cordova is out a dime, but he beat a drunk driving rap and figures his freedom is worth every cent of it.

Cordova, 32, of Canoga Park told this story Wednesday in municipal court.

After he had two beers his car figured in a minor collision last June 6 with the auto of Charles R. Witt, of Van Nuys, a traffic officer off duty.

Witt thought police should investigate but he had no money. Cordova gave him a dime to call the cops. They arrested Cordova when he wouldn't blow up a sobriety test balloon.

Cordova maintained that if he'd been drunk he wouldn't have given Witt the dime to call the law.

Judge Ben Koenig acquitted him.

Makers of photographic materials estimate that Americans are taking pictures with their cameras at the rate of more than five million a day.

Immunity Law Goes to Ike It's an 'Out' for Reluctant Witnesses

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (P)—It is up to President Eisenhower now to sign into law, and he probably will, the bill just passed by Congress to guarantee balking witnesses immunity to federal prosecution if they answer questions about subversion.

This measure, if it becomes law, almost certainly will have a stormy history and perhaps a sensational one. It will be fought in the courts as unconstitutional. If it works, it may lead to startling disclosures about communism.

Bill's Details

The bill goes like this: 1. It is aimed mainly at Communists, past or present. Immunity can be given only to witnesses in cases involving conspiracy to overthrow the government, treason, spying, and sedition. Immunity cannot be given for any other kind of offense.

2. A witness can't get immunity for the asking. He must first refuse to testify by invoking the Fifth Amendment which says a man can't be compelled to say anything which might incriminate him.

3. The immunity can be given only to a Fifth Amendment witness appearing before a congressional committee, a federal grand jury or a federal court and only if his testimony is important.

Must Agree

4. The immunity can't be granted at all unless two-thirds of the full committee before which he has been called votes to give it to him. Once the committee approves, then —

5. The committee itself can't grant the immunity. It must ask a federal judge to do so. The attorney general has no veto even though he objects, perhaps because he had been preparing to bring the witness to trial soon.

Once the witness gets immunity he cannot thereafter be prosecuted in federal court for any federal crime in relation to which he answers questions.

6. But, once given immunity, the witness must answer questions if he spurns the immunity, insisting that under the Fifth Amendment he still doesn't have to answer questions, he can be cited for contempt of Congress, tried, and, if convicted, jailed.

7. The procedure is slightly different when a Fifth Amendment witness refuses to answer questions before a federal grand jury or in federal court. In that case a U. S. District Attorney, with the approval of his boss, the Attorney General, may ask a federal judge to grant immunity. If the witness still prefers the Fifth Amendment to immunity, he can be cited for contempt of court, tried, and, if found guilty, jailed.

This is where the trouble will arise. The new law says only that the witness could never be prosecuted by the federal government for any federal crime related to his testimony.

It does not say the same witness could not be prosecuted in a state court. For example: Suppose he admitted committing a federal crime and a state had a law making the same offense a state crime, too.

Couldn't Use Testimony

The state couldn't use his federal testimony in a state court trial. The Supreme Court has ruled on that.

But could the state use his federal testimony as a lead on which to gather evidence on which to try him in a state court? There's no answer. And there won't be until the Supreme Court some day gives a decision on it.

The first Supreme Court test might come the first time a witness received immunity from a Scheduled to service area inter-city bus commuters on or about September 2 is Greyhound's new Scenicruiser. New features of the Scenicruiser are broad rooflights of special safety glass, designed to permit a sky view for passengers, glare resistant six-foot safety glass picture windows, a fully equipped washroom with running water, and improved air conditioning designed to change the air inside the bus every 40 seconds. The design for the bus was conceived in the early '30's, and a hand-made experimental model was put on the road in 1948. Since then, the company has ordered 500 Scenicruisers built at a cost of nearly $25 000 000.

Studebaker Vote May Set Pattern for U. S. Industry

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Thousands of Studebaker automotive employees prepared to vote today on an issue of immense potential importance to the whole of American industry—whether to accept a cut in pay so that the company can cut its costs.

Studebaker officials have told local union of the CIO United Auto Workers that the wage adjustments are necessary for competitive reasons.

Union officers who worked out the proposals in lengthy negotiations with the company have urged the membership to accept.

The reductions would be effected by elimination of piecework and incentive pay.

14 Per Cent

The cuts amount to an average 14 per cent of the payroll.

A union official estimated that the reductions would range from a minimum of $12 to a maximum of $20 per week.

The company contends it is paying an average hourly wage of $2.39, compared with $2.03 by its principal competitors. Studebaker reported a net loss of nearly nine million dollars for the first six months of this year.

Top executives last April accepted salary reductions ranging from 20 to 30 per cent on all salaries above $20,000 a year.

Today's balloting is the second vote on the proposal for pay reductions of the other employees.

Nearly 5,000 members of the union a week ago rejected the proposed agreement. Union officials said the vote was "very close."

They said, however, that the attendance at the original meeting represented less than half the union's present membership of 10,500.

Two days later, the company gave notice that it would end its present contract with the union in 60 days.

Second Meeting

Louis J. Horvath, president of the local, then announced a second meeting would be held to reconsider the proposal. He said the decision to take another vote was made unanimously by the 20-man executive board.

A full explanation of the proposed new contract has been prepared, Horvath said. Arguments on both sides are expected. When they are finished a secret ballot will be taken, supervised by a firm of certified public accountants.

Company officials assert that the reduction in hourly rates will not mean a reduction in total monthly take-home pay.

The Studebaker plant is idle now for the 11th week since the beginning of the year. In some weeks it was operating only four days.

In answer to a question as to whether the Studebaker plant will close if the proposals are not accepted by the membership, board chairman Paul G. Hoffman says: "I assume the men simply won't work. They won't work without a contract."

Summons Catches Up With Sally After 14 Years

Dive-Bombing Owl Scores on 100 Turkeys

SYKESVILLE, Md. (AP)—More than 100 young turkeys on a nearby farm were killed Wednesday by a dive-bombing hoot owl.

Leonard S. Brushwood, who operates the turkey farm, said the owl got into a pen where he had about 250 turkeys. Shortly after sunrise, Brushwood said he saw the owl using its big wing-spread to corral the turkeys, all 8 weeks old and weighing about 4 pounds each, into a corner.

Brushwood said he shot the owl and found it had bitten off the heads of more than 100 birds.

He Wrecks Own Home, Jailed

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP)—Homer Cox, 50, charged with peace disturbance after he did a good job of wrecking his house Saturday, is back in jail for trying to complete the job.

Cox, who said he was angry because his wife wanted to divorce him, used a shovel on the house Saturday, breaking windows and mirrors, smashing plumbing and kitchen appliances. He had started tearing off roof shingles when he was stopped.

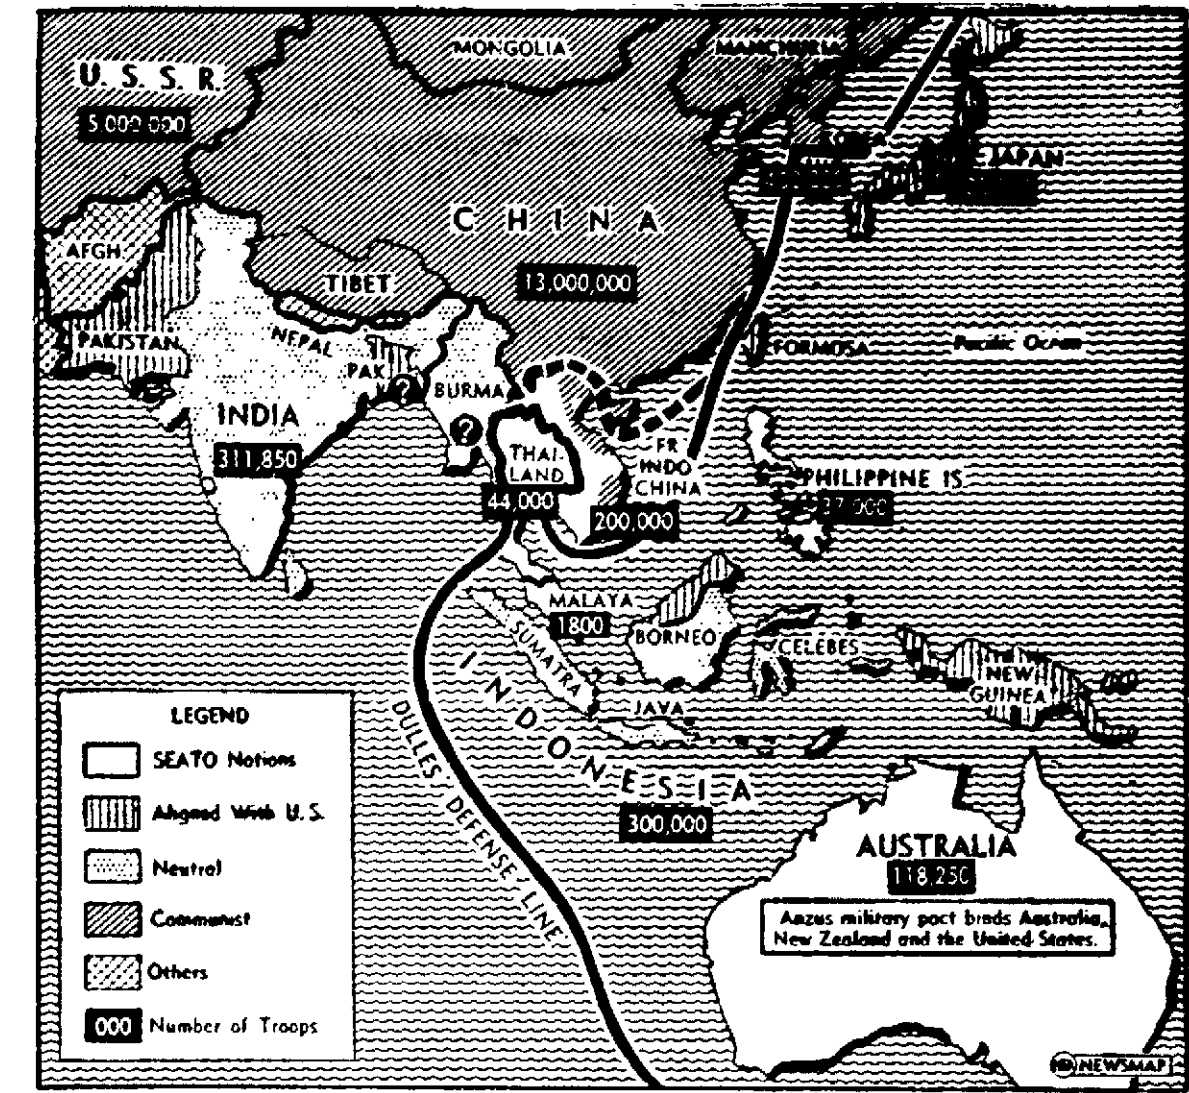

Sunday he was released on bond. Tuesday police were called again because Cox was working on the furniture with a baseball bat.

Despite the second charge of peace disturbance, Cox said he could do what he wanted to the house because he paid for it.

Miss Rand had failed to repay some loans.

Lawson, hearing Miss Rand was appearing at a home exhibit here, bought a ticket, waited in line, got a smile from Sally and then handed her the summons.

The judgment, for $4,331, has grown with interest to $8,050.

"FENCE" FOR UNITED FRONT AGAINST REDS—One of the important items which Prime Minister Churchill and Anthony Eden will discuss when they meet with President Eisenhower will be creation of SEATO (Southeast Asia Treaty Organization) to curb any further Red aggression in Asia. Also included is the new Dulles defense line running from the northern tip of Japan and including all the island chains, including the East Indies. Indo-China will be included in the defense pattern if she requests it or if China commits "open military aggression." Map shows defensive strength in Asia.

Poultry Farmer Asks Court to Rule on Controls

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—An 81-year-old Pennsylvania poultry farmer has asked the U. S. District Court to declare unconstitutional the price and acreage control features of the Federal Farm and Marketing Administration Acts.

In a suit filed with the court Wednesday, Joseph Blattner claimed that acreage controls on his wheat crop will put him out of business.

Blattner, claiming he requires all his land to raise feed for his chickens, seeded eight extra acres and refuses to pay $178.20 in penalties imposed by federal farm agents.

Blattner contends that the government, by serving the penalty notice, is taking his property without due process of law.

Experts estimate there will be more than 15 million people over 65 in the United States in 1960.

Admiral to Retire As College Head

LOCKPORT, Ill. (AP)—Rear Adm. Herbert J. Grassie, (USN Ret.) Wednesday announced he will retire Sept. 1 as chancellor and president of Lewis College.

He had held the post for five years after having served 37 years in the Navy.

A former commander of the U.S. Naval Training Center at Great Lakes, Ill., Grassie, also had commanded the USS Idaho in the invasions of Guam, Iwo Jima and Okinawa.

Grassie plans to move to Coronado, Calif. A successor will be named by the Most Rev. Bernard J. Sheil, auxiliary Roman Catholic Bishop of Chicago. Bishop Sheil is a former president of Lewis College and is chairman of the college directors.

Transit Firm Sues Peoria For $257,216

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—The City of Peoria was sued for $257,216 in Circuit Court by Peoria Transit Lines, Inc., Wednesday.

The bus line charged the city lacked authority to rent or lease its streets. Peoria Transit said it had paid that sum of money to the city since 1946 for its bus franchise.

The suit also charged the city violated its own franchise ordinance by failing to place the funds collected from the transit line into a special street improvement fund.

City officials had no immediate comment on the suit.

The City Council, however, said the bus line is $21,000 in arrears in payment for the franchise and that it had been authorized by the city attorney Tuesday night to sue to collect that sum.

Ninth in a Series:

Exemptions for Sickness Embodied in New Tax Law

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the ninth in a series of articles explaining how the new tax revision act affects individuals.

By CHARLES F. BARRETT
WASHINGTON (U)—Many millions of additional workers are now eligible for tax-exemption on wages received while they are sick.

And more liberal rules have been adopted for taxing other employee sickness or accident benefits, death benefits and lump-sum payments under pension, profit or stock-sharing plans.

All these rules are spelled out in the new tax revision act recently passed by Congress. They apply to such employee benefits received after last Dec. 31, if they are financed by employers under any systematic plan.

Remember This
If you are covered by such a plan, perhaps the most important thing to remember is this:

If your pay is continued while you are off work because of sickness or injury, you pay no tax on wages of up to $100 a week after the first seven days of the sickness or injury.

Further, you pay no tax on wages up to $100 during the first seven days if your absence is due to accidental injury, or if you are hospitalized at any time during an illness.

Thus, for example, if you make $100 a week or more and you are out three weeks with an injury or hospital illness, you can deduct $300 from your taxable income. Even at the minimum 20 per cent tax rate, that would be a tax saving of $60 for you. If you are sick but don't go to a hospital, your wages for two of the three weeks still would be tax-free, for a tax cut of at least $40.

Other Benefits
Here are other important benefits:

You pay no tax on payments which reimburse you for actual medical expenses paid by you or your dependents. Like sick leave wages, these payments simply are not counted as income.

Similarly you pay no tax on payments to you for the loss of limb or other part of the body, or for permanent disfigurement.

Under the old tax law, some employees got these tax-free benefits and some didn't. Generally, if your employer had a commercial insurance contract to cover his sick and accident benefits, they were tax-exempt. But if the employer financed them himself—as many do, especially for sick leave pay—the benefits were fully taxable.

The new law wipes out what its sponsors called an unjust discrimination.

No Limit
There is no limit on the sick-pay exemption. If you are out for six months, for example, you could get up to $2,600 in tax-free wages and save at least $520 in taxes.

If an employee pays part of the cost of a sick or accident benefit plan, he pays no tax on the benefits for which he pays. The rules above would apply to that part of benefits financed by his employer.

The new act takes a similar step toward death benefits. Payments of up to $5,000 to beneficiaries could be tax exempt under the old law—but only if the employer was bound by contract to pay the benefit. The new act grants the exemption whether the benefit is paid under contract or not.

The new act also extends the $5,000 exemption to lump death payments under qualified pension, profit-sharing or stock-bonus plans. Under the old law, such payments were not exempt if the employee while living had a benefit right which could not be forfeited to anyone else.

One Exemption
One old provision is tightened, however. Any one employee is entitled to only one $5,000 death benefit exemption. In the past, a man working for several firms could get a $5,000 tax-free benefit from each firm.

There is one more change affecting benefits paid because of separation from service under pension, profit-sharing or stock-bonus plans. Under the old law, lump-sum payments under these plans were taxed as ordinary income if the employer bought a commercial insurance contract to cover them. If the employer financed the plan through a trust fund, the benefits were taxed at the capital gain rate, which usually was lower than the regular income tax. The new law extends the capital gain rate even to insured plans.

Moreover, under the old law, if you died after retirement, the lump-sum payoff to your beneficiaries was always taxed as ordinary income. Now this lump-sum payment can be taxed as a capital gain.

The Jolly Suicide of Chatillon

By ROSETTE HARGROVE

CHATHILLON, France (NEA)—Death had no sting for 58-year-old farmer George Daire, a native of this little village 60 miles south of Paris. His demise brought him the celebrity which he had carefully planned.

Daire was a confirmed bachelor who every evening went to the village cafe for his glass of whisky and a couple of drinks. Six years ago he informed his cronies that he intended to plan ahead of time the day of his death, the details of his funeral and a program of public rejoicing.

Like the famous actress Sarah Bernhardt, he started by ordering his casket. When it was delivered he toured the village with it in his horse-drawn cart. This was naturally, an occasion for much convivial drinking.

Then he drew up his will with these clauses: "My funeral is to be entirely non-religious; no flowers, no wreaths, no praying, my casket will be carried by my usual band partners; the local brass band will head the procession and will play gay tunes; after the ceremony all the people who attend my funeral will go to the Cafe Bourillon and drink to my health."

He deposited $35 with the authorities to pay for the drinks, plus $15 for the brass band and another $15 for the gravediggers.

Most of this was known to the villagers, who looked upon Daire as a gay old dog. Recently he had his casket re-varnished. Nobody paid any attention.

But three days after his 58th birthday, Daire hung a notice on his door, which said "House of Deceased," and set the casket next to his bed.

On the lid he placed his will, a mug of dry champagne and a package of "tabac gris," the cheapest French pipe tobacco, inscribed "for the gravedigger."

Oven Baked Chicken, Baked Ham, Popular

FOR VOLUNTEER FIREMEN'S fund-raising dinners—oven-baked chicken, baked ham, gelatin salads served cafeteria style.

By GAYNOR MADDON

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Verna Va. Volunteer Fire Department give dinner in the local firehouse to raise money for fire-fighting equipment. Meals are served cafeteria style.

Mrs. Margaret Long, auxiliary president and her active co-workers tell us that oven baked chicken, baked ham and gelatin salads are the most popular items. Here are two of their best selling menus.

1. Oven baked chicken potatoes with mustard and sour cream dressing tomato perfection salad rolls butter or margarine, watermelon.

2. Baked ham cinnamon candied sweet potatoes green beans orange cranberry relish salad, chocolate cake.

Mrs. Long gave us her gelatin salad recipes.

Cranberry Relish Salad
(Yield: 24 servings)

Two oranges quartered and seeded 3 1/2 pound cans whole cranberry sauce 3 envelopes unflavored gelatin 2 cups bottled cranberry juice cocktail 1/2 cup sugar

Put oranges through food chopper using fine blade. Combine with whole cranberry sauce mix well.

Sprinkle gelatin on cranberry juice to soften. Place over boiling water, stir until dissolved. Remove from heat add sugar and stir until dissolved. Stir into orange-cranberry mixture. Chill until the consistency of unbeaten egg white. Turn into 24 1/2 cup paper cups.

Four envelopes unflavored gelatin 2 cups cold tomato juice 1 quart hot tomato juice 1/2 cup lemon juice 1/2 teaspoon Tabasco 1/2 teaspoon salt 1 quart grated cabbage 1 quart finely diced celery 2 tablespoons minced onions 1 cup finely chopped green pepper 1/2 cup finely chopped stiffed olives

Sprinkle gelatin on cold tomato juice to soften. Add hot tomato juice stir until dissolved. Add lemon juice Tabasco and salt, mix well. Chill 1/2 hour. Mix in cabbage celery, onion green pepper and olives.

Turn into a 15 1/2 x 10 1/2 x 2 1/2 inch shallow baking pan. Chill until firm. To serve cut into squares.

Builders Speed Work With Pre-Fabricated Gimmicks

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Builders are cutting corners today to speed factory office and store construction—and to pare costs.

Here are a few of the new devices and materials that are changing building methods as well as the face of America.

Concrete floor slabs piled like pancakes—then lifted into position by hydraulic jacks.

Sidewalls prefabricated and swung into place by derricks—to shear an entire skyscraper in the matter of hours.

Porcelain-enamel panels fastened onto an old building—for a quick face lifting.

Walls of Glass
Walls entirely of glass swung into place—leaving special problems for window cleaners.

Prefabrication is getting a big boost these days in the efforts of builders to beat high labor construction costs. Competition is spreading among materials. Steel, aluminum, glass, porcelain are giving brick and stone a race for exterior walls. Plywood and plastics vie with lath and plaster for interior partitions.

Teaming ready made concrete floors and steel walls can make for a speedy operation according to the Truscon Steel division of Republic Steel Corp., which has a window wall unit for sale.

First reinforced concrete floors are poured on the ground stacked like flapjacks with a thin layer of talcum like powder keeping them apart while they dry. Hydraulic jacks raise each in turn to its place on braced structural columns. They have to start with the top floor and work down.

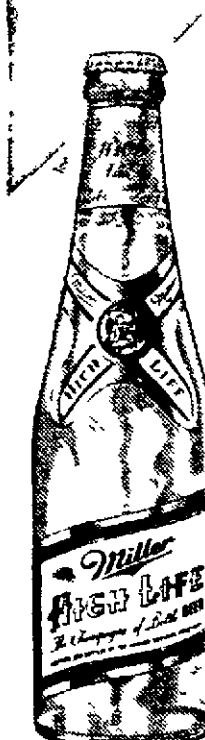

Swing Into Place
Then four-man crews swing Truscon's ready made glass and steel wall units into place. Each unit has complete exterior and interior wall finishes, with window and insulation built in.

The pour-and-raise floors and window walls were teamed by Clemson College in building a new dormitory on its Clemson S. C. campus. Truscon says its four-man crews erected 1,400 square feet of wall space completed inside and out in a day or in 32 man hours.

The same units were also used in the United Air Lines office building at Chicago's Airport.

Revive Old Time Meal Of Firemen

By GAYNOR MADDOX

My father used to be a Volunteer fireman in Nunoda, N. Y. That was long ago. He loved to talk about the supper the Ladies' Auxiliary gave on the church lawn to raise funds for new equipment. There was a dish he bragged about—barbecued corn and meat balls. But he could never remember the recipe.

Therefore, we went to work in our modern kitchen, with modern labor-saving ingredients and produced a recipe in honor of Nunoda's volunteer firemen of many, many years ago.

Barbecued Corn and Meat Balls (Yield 50 servings)

One and 1/2 quarts evaporated milk, 1 quart rolled oats, 2 teaspoons monosodium glutamate, 3 1/2 tablespoons salt, 1 teaspoon pepper, 9 pounds ground beef, 1 cup shortening, 3 cups chopped onion, 2 cups finely chopped green pepper, 2 No. 10 cans whole kernel corn, 1/2 cup flour, 3 tablespoons dry mustard, 1 teaspoon Tabasco, 3 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce, 1 1/2 cups catsup.

Pour evaporated milk over rolled oats; let stand 10 minutes. Add monosodium glutamate salt and pepper. Blend beef into oatmeal mixture, shape into balls using No. 20 scoop. Bake in a very hot oven (500 degrees F.) 15 minutes.

For sauce, melt shortening, add onion and green pepper, cook until onion is tender. Pour off 2 cups corn liquid, reserve. Add remaining corn with liquid to onion and pepper mixture, heat to boiling. Blend together remaining ingredients with reserved corn liquid. Blend into hot mixture, stirring constantly. Divide over pans of meatballs. Bake in a slow oven (300 degrees F.) 30 minutes.

Finnish-Style Bath

WAUKEGAN, Ill. (P) — To the Steve Hutnicks, there's nothing like a hot bath to keep cool. It's an old story to Finns who like steam baths. Mrs. Hutnick invites neighbor women to use the Finnish-style bath with her on hot days. It is built of cement blocks, covered with knotty pine, tarred to prevent rot. A wood-burning stove is covered with smooth-round stones. The steam bath reclines on a bench. With a dipper he pours cold water on the hot stones to create steam.

After a switching with a bunch of twigs and a cold shower, the bath devotee emerges cooled and refreshed.

Chocolate Orange Cake Recipe Makes a Big Hit

By GAYNOR MADDOX

When we lived in Croton-on-Hudson in New York state, the annual Volunteer Fire Department's carnival was a festive occasion for everyone. Our friend Mrs. Donald Hall, excellent cook used to give after-carnival parties. Firemen, friends and their wives, and we too, always enjoyed her chocolate cakes.

We pass on Mrs. Hall's chocolate orange cake recipe. It's the kind of cake which sells well when Ladies Auxiliaries want to raise funds for new fire-fighting equipment.

Chocolate Orange Cake

Three cups sifted cake flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup shortening, 1 cup sugar, 3 eggs, 1/4 cup orange marmalade, 2 tablespoons grated orange rind, 1 cup orange juice.

Sift flour with baking powder and salt. Cream shortening add sugar gradually, blending together until light and fluffy. Add eggs one at a time, beating well after each addition. Stir in marmalade and orange rind.

Add flour alternately with orange juice mixing well, ending with flour. Turn batter into well-greased pan 10 x 15 x 3 inches. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 30 minutes. Frost cake with Chocolate Frosting, or cut cake in squares top with slice of ice cream and serve with Chocolate Sauce.

Chocolate Frosting or Sauce (Yield: Frosting for top of 10 x 15 inch cake, or 1 1/2 cups chocolate sauce.)

One package (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate morsels, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar, 3 to 4 tablespoons hot milk, for frosting, 1/2 cup hot milk, for sauce, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

In top of double boiler put semi-sweet chocolate morsels and butter. Heat until melted and mix until smooth. Remove from heat. For frosting, add milk and sugar alternately, adding enough milk to make a spreadable consistency. Stir in vanilla. For sauce, increase milk to 1/2 cup.

8 Million Allergic Children Are Born, Not Made

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Does your child frequently have a running or stuffed up nose? Does he cough, wheeze, sneeze, breathe hard? These may be the tell-tale signs of allergy. For one out of every eight children under 14 suffers from one or more allergies. Or 8,000,000 altogether.

The symptoms may be fleeting at first and hard to detect. But, left untreated, they may in a large percentage of instances have serious results, involving any tissue, organ or system of the body and leading to innumerable disease complications.

If one or both parents are allergic or there's a history, say, of asthma in the family, the outlook is much worse.

Dr. Harry Swartz, New York allergist, comes to these conclusions in "The Allergic Child" (Coward-McCann).

The author assails two "dangerous myths" commonly held and passed on also by some reputable physicians. They are that allergy is outgrown, and children can be too young to be treated.

Nothing is farther from medical truth, says Dr. Swartz. Those simple, itchy rashes of babyhood, those attacks of colic and recurrent "colds" easily turn into full-blown eczema, hives, stomach and intestinal upsets, bronchitis, hay fever and asthma.

The consequences could be damaging to the personality as well as the future health of the growing youngster. Yet few parents are taught ways to recognize and prevent allergies in childhood.

Dr. Swartz offers these "common tell-tale signs of allergy in children:

Irritability. Overactive movements in the crib, excessive crying for no apparent reason, disturbed sleep. Later, a compulsion to be on the run all the time to start hostilities against parents, friends and teachers.

Skin reactions. Occasional transient hives, perhaps from the first day of life, welts due to minor injuries, usually large swellings from ordinary insect bites. Insidious rashes that come and go; itches that appear with teething. Scratching or rubbing the skin. Unusual redness of the cheeks and a circle of pallor about the lips, which may be taken for the bloom of health but actually precede a rash.

Gastrointestinal reactions. Recurring cold or canker sores about the lips or in the mouth, loose bowels, constipation or vomiting, colic, inducing pain and crying; an aversion to certain foods or refusal to eat at all.

Respiratory tract reactions. These are the recurrent "colds" with or without fever, disappearing in 24 to 48 hours. They may be true colds. Their unusual frequency makes them noteworthy.

Nasal stuffiness, occasional sneezing, constant sniffing. Rubbing the nose may be a habit spasm, could be a sign of Spasmodic, hoarse coughs with sore throat and difficult breathing. Wheezy breathing.

Eye reactions. Redness of eyes or itchy tearing of the eyes, accompanied by rubbing, early matting of the lids.

Head reactions. Complaints of dizziness and headache.

Drug reactions. After sulfa or antibiotics, itchy rashes or other reactions not ordinarily expected.

These are not infallible signs. They are warning signals, however, which should alert parents to keep a close watch.

Prevention is beset by many hurdles, writes Dr. Swartz, many unscalable. There can be no immunization as in contagious diseases. But specific steps are at hand.

Actually, the prevention program should begin before birth. Ideally, allergies should not manifest, says the author, who concedes this is harsh advice.

Pregnant mothers, particularly those with an allergic record themselves, but also all others, should avoid "food binges." She should also avoid eggs, and limit her milk diet. These may cause the sensitization of newborn infants to certain foods. Her diet should be greatly varied with unusual or esoteric foods left out. Dr. Swartz recommends breast feeding wherever possible after

Set Stage for President's Appearance at State Fair

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (Special)—One of the latest mid-week crowds in the 102-year history of the Illinois State Fair is anticipated on Thursday, Aug. 19, when President Eisenhower appears to speak at the Republican Centennial Celebration. Morton H. Hollingsworth, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, said today.

Thursday of the Fair, traditionally designated as Governor's Day, has been set aside as President Eisenhower Day to honor the chief executive. The President's visit will be one of five appearances at centennial functions officially arranged with cooperation of the National Republican Centennial Committee.

Hollingsworth announced that the Republican Centennial celebration will begin at 12:30 p.m. with a band concert for the thousands of early arrivals expected to crowd into the grandstand hours before the President's address.

A motorcade carrying President Eisenhower and national and state dignitaries, also is scheduled to leave from the Governor's Mansion at 12:30. It will parade through downtown Springfield and to the fairgrounds.

The time of the parade is subject to change, however. Hollingsworth stated, "depending upon national radio and television schedules."

Springfield merchants and businessmen, working with the city's Association of Commerce and Industry, are planning special window displays and decorations for President Eisenhower Day. The route of the parade will be marked with Republican Centennial posters and other special designation for the convenience of visitors who wish to view the parade.

'Hot Stuff' Recipes Go Well at These Cook Outs

SHELTER ISLAND VOLUNTEER FIREMEN serve tabasco butter-milk chicken and barbecued scalloped potatoes at their meals.

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Shelter Island, on the tip of Long Island, N. Y., has a large volunteer fire department. Chief "Tiny" Silvani and his men have a fine record.

So has the Ladies' Auxiliary. They have made the Volunteer Fire Department one of the most active social groups in that part of the country. Their dances and dinners are big news locally.

Each fireman's wife makes up a large pan of potatoes, chicken, etc., and takes it to the party. The food is like New England fare, hearty, stick-to-the-ribs. There's a lot of fresh caught seafood and fish, too.

Chief Silvani, proud of the Ladies' Auxiliary, gave us two of their "hot stuff" recipes.

Tabasco Buttermilk Chicken (Yield: 4 to 6 servings per chicken)

One-half teaspoon Tabasco, 3/4 cup buttermilk, 1 cup flour, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1 (2 1/2 to 3-pound) broiler-fryer, cut up.

Measure Tabasco and buttermilk into a shallow dish; mix well. Combine flour with salt. Dip chicken in Tabasco-buttermilk mixture; roll in flour mixture. Brown chicken in hot fat 1/4-inch deep in skillet.

Cover; reduce heat and cook slowly 30 minutes longer. Drain on absorbent paper.

Barbecued Scalloped Potatoes (Yield: 20 servings)

Twelve large (5 pounds) potatoes, peeled and sliced, 2 medium onions,

1/2 cup butter or margarine, 4 1/2 cups milk scalded, 1/4 cup catsup, 1 teaspoon Tabasco, 4 tablespoons chopped parsley.

Put half the potatoes and onions in a 15 1/2 x 10 1/2 x 2 1/2-inch shallow baking pan. Sprinkle with flour and half the cheese and salt; dot with half the butter.

Top with remaining potatoes and onion. Combine milk, catsup and Tabasco; pour over mixture. Top with remaining cheese, salt and butter; sprinkle with parsley. Cover with cookie sheet or aluminum foil. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 1 1/2 hours.

Censors Hit Disney Film Birth Scene

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Walt Disney today defended one of his movies which has been criticized by the New York State Censor Board because it contains scenes showing a buffalo calf being born.

"It's high time we started living in an up-to-date world," said the cartoon wizard. "You simply can't ignore such things as birth any more."

The movie is "The Vanishing Prairie," one of Disney's true-life adventure films, a series which has won six academy awards. The New York censors have denied the film a license because it showed the actual birth of a buffalo calf.

The action got Disney's dander up, and he's a fellow who doesn't madden easily. He claimed the board's thinking was outmoded.

Scenes Stricken

"There have been many scenes in these animal pictures which I have thrown out for reasons of taste," he remarked. "But I felt this scene belonged in the film. It was a clean birth and very fast. I don't see how anyone could be touchy about it."

"I think it should be good for children. I know it had a good effect on my daughters when they saw it. They're 18 and 20, and one is married. The scene took the fear out of child birth for them. I showed the picture to the Catholic Legion of Decency in New York, and they found nothing objectionable in it. They said it should be seen not only by every adult, but every child, too."

"Joe Breen (Hollywood's top censor) found nothing wrong with the scene. He told me to keep it in the picture."

Calf Born

The scene shows a buffalo calf emerging from its mother's womb. The mother instinctively licks the membrane from the head of the calf, which would otherwise smother in a matter of minutes. The substance also helps induce the mother's milk. The calf struggles to get to its feet, which it must do to reach the food supply. The scene occupies two minutes on the screen.

The Disney studio pointed out that "The Vanishing Prairie" has been commended by the Parent-Teachers Assn., General Federation of Women's Clubs and other groups. Each recommended it for family audiences.

—The Dixon Evening Telegraph, which has the distinction of serving a large area in northern Illinois, can well boast of the pulling power of the advertisements carried by Dixon merchants every day in the week. Dixon merchants are more than advertising minded. Their efforts in this line have lured many from considerable distance. Our stores carry up-to-date merchandise, our fine grocery stores, of which there are many, are of the very best. Our merchants have proved themselves trustworthy and reliable and The Dixon Evening Telegraph, after 102 years, feels pride and satisfaction that its subscription list has continued to yearly grow way back from 1850. —tf.

Molasses Oatmeal Bread Is a Top Maine Product

MOLASSES OATMEAL BREAD and special baked beans helped raise money for West Gardiner, Me., Volunteer Fire Department.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
The annual Volunteer Fire Department fair in West Gardiner, Me., has a queen (the girl who sold most votes for herself at 10 cents a vote) and food sales. Lots of money is realized for the department.

Molasses oatmeal bread made by Mrs. Annie Gosline is always a top seller, year after year. Her daughter, Mrs. Helen Merrill, is noted for her baked beans. So let's go to Maine and see how they make these things.

Mrs. Gosline's Molasses Oatmeal Bread

(Yield: 4 loaves)
Three cups milk, 3 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon salt, 3 tablespoons shortening, 2 cup unsulphured molasses, 1 cup lukewarm water, 2 packages cake yeast, dry or compressed, 11 cups sifted all-purpose flour, divided, 1 cup rolled oats, 1 cup raisins.

Scald milk. Remove from heat; add sugar, salt and shortening. Stir in molasses; cool to lukewarm. Pour lukewarm water into large mixing bowl. Add yeast; let stand until dissolved. Add lukewarm milk mixture. Stir in 5 cups of the flour, oatmeal and raisins; beat until smooth. Add and stir in remaining 5 1/2 to 6 cups flour to make a soft dough.

Turn dough on lightly floured board and knead until smooth and elastic. Place in oiled bowl; turn once to bring greased side up. Cover and let rise in a warm place until double in bulk (about 1 1/2 hours). Punch down and divide dough into fourths. Shape into loaves and place in greased 9x5x3-inch loaf pans.

Let rise in a warm place, until center is slightly higher than edge of pan, about 1 hour. Bake in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) 50 minutes. If desired, brush tops of loaves with confectioners' sugar glaze.

Mrs. Merrill's Molasses Baked Beans

(Yield: 6 servings)
Two cups dried navy or pea beans, 3 slices bacon or salt pork, 2 tablespoons chopped onion, 1/2 cup unsulphured molasses, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, 2 cups hot water, 1 tablespoon vinegar.

Wash beans. Cover generously with cold water; soak overnight. Drain. Fry bacon or brown salt WEDDING BELLS? — Millionaire Winthrop Rockefeller keeps mum on rumored reports that he will marry Jeanette Edris, Seattle, Wash., hotel heiress, above. In Seattle, Rockefeller, who recently was divorced from blonde Bobo Rockefeller, said he was in the city only to visit his son.

George (Fingers) Larrick New Guard Of Nation's Kitchens and Drug Cabinets

By KENNETH O. GILMORE
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The American housewife has a new guardian of her kitchen cabinet and medicine chest. But he's an old hand at the job.

George P. Larrick is replacing retired Charles W. Crawford as Commissioner of the Food and Drug Administration.

Larrick has been working up the ranks in FDA for the past 30 years and is the nation's top expert at keeping bad food and misleading drugs and cosmetics off the market.

They've recently hung the name "Fingers" on him due to a guilty coincidence. The FDA just wrapped up a case against a packing company for putting out a can of food containing human fingers. The concern was fined $800 for failing to make a thorough search for the missing fingers which were sliced off in an accident.

About the same time Larrick cut off the end of his own thumb while fixing some machinery on his Virginia farm.

Many were afraid an outside politician would be named as Commissioner. Larrick is hardly that. In 1923, he joined the FDA as an inspector after specialized training in chemistry and biology at George Washington University.

A slight, unassuming man of medium height Larrick looks younger than his 53 years. He speaks in quiet tones and his modestly belittles numerous notable accomplishments. The case of the missing fruit cake has become a legend at the FDA.

In 1928 Larrick had just come to Washington on a trial basis as an administrative assistant. A week before Christmas a doctor came into his office with a fruit cake he claimed had made him and his friends violently ill.

A quick check in the laboratory showed the cake contained arsenic and when Larrick heard about it he moved fast. After tracing down the woman who made the cakes, he recovered all but one of the seven she had sold. His only lead to that missing one was that a traveling salesman had traded some vanilla for the cake and sent it as a present to her brother in Canada.

As Dec. 25 drew near Larrick began a life and death search for some clue as to the identity of the woman and her brother.

After endless inquiries Larrick finally turned up another brother of the salesman. He rushed to his home far out in Virginia and got the address of relatives in Canada. Larrick then sought the help of the Canadian Embassy.

and within a few hours the cake was in safe hands and on its way back to Washington by diplomatic pouch. Under the gay wrappings FDA chemists found a deadly poisonous cake.

With this crisis over, Larrick returned to the home where the fruit cakes were made to determine where the arsenic came from. It turned out some of the children in the house had thrown the contents of a package of insecticide into the flour bin. The color was the same and they wanted to play with the bag.

Dr. Paul B. Dunbar, FDA commissioner from 1945 to 1951, says this was a typical example of the outstanding ability Larrick showed as a young man.

From 1930 to 1945 he served as FDA's senior inspector and chief inspector. This position took him all over the nation and he gained a reputation as a crackjack investigator. But sometimes the work was frustrating. On one case he spent five months digging up evidence for a trial that wound up with a hung jury.

When he moved up the line as assistant, associate and then deputy commissioner, Larrick was able to settle down.

He now has a small farm on the edge of the Potomac out in Virginia where he likes to spend his weekends tending a four acre garden and fishing. The new commissioner has twin 16-year-old sons, a daughter in her twenties and a married son—and is a grandfather.
